Non-Stop To New York

Huntington Beach To Fight Tideland Lease

The city of Huntington Beach will fight plans of the state of California to lease the tidelands off Huntington Beach, Mayor M. M. McCallen of the beach city announced today.

Huntington Beach is preparing to go into court for a restraining order to prevent the state from going through with its plans to lease the tidelands to the highest bidder, McCallen declared. The state has called for bids on a tract of 800 acres extending westerly from Twenty-third street, the bids to be opened September 1.

The state has specified that drilling must be from an upland location, with drilling by whipstock or directional method. The 800-acre strip has been divided into five parcels of 160 acres each.

As the first step in its campaign for clear title to the tidelands, Huntington Beach is cancelling all tideland agreements made by previous councils, McCallen said. These agreements include one made with a Long Beach firm of attorneys whereby the attorneys were to secure a percentage of any royalties secured in the event tidelands were leased. Another agreement was made with the Southwest Exploration corporation whereby the city would get a royalty on any wells drilled into the tidelands by this corporation.

McCallen declared that the city has title to Coast boulevard from Twenty-third street westerly to the city limits and will base its appeal for a restraining order on the basis that any drilling from an upland location to the tidelands would be an encroachment on city property.

The area east of Twenty-third street is not open to bidding as the state already has agreements with operators who whipstocked wells into the tidelands from upland locations.

Register-Legion Start Big Drive

1000 KILLED
IN TWO DAYS

RAISE DRUM CORPS FUNDS

Trumpets of the American Legion Drum and Bugle corps of Santa Ana today resoundingly blared the signal for the start of one of the most militant drives in the history of the organization.

Primary objective of the campaign, which is being conducted in cooperation with The Register, is the capture of highest honors in competition with the nation's best drummers and buglers at the National convention of the American Legion in Los Angeles, opening Monday, Sept. 19.

These were the announcements of Corps Business Manager Harold Brown and Corps Commander Ben Lieberman. Members of the Register-Drum Corps Convention Fund Committee are Marion Dodder, chairman; Glen Cave and Norman Reeves and T. R. Ohs. Headquarters for the drive is located at The Register office.

Head Committee
All well-known throughout the county and state are Corps Director Bert Ruth, formerly with the Salem, Ore., national champions, and national champion drummer; Musical Director James E. Son, who for three years was assistant director under John Phillip Sousa and a world war veteran; Drill Master "Pat" Murphy, formerly with the San Gabriel outfit, past national champions; and Drum Major Cave. Dodder is secretary-treasurer of the local organization.

With the solid backing of every member of all the 17 American Legion posts in Orange county, the drive was off to a flying start this morning to raise at least $1,000 for the purchase of sleek uniforms, decorative emblems, drums of unusual type, and an assorted variety of other equipment, including snappy uniforms for the high school majorettes, who will lead the drum corps in the big parade.

Fine Background
Founded on the rich background of past performances and honors garnered in competitions with some of the best-known corps in the state and nation, the belief that Santa Ana again will be placed prominently on the country's martial music map this morning held strong significance.

Armed with order slips from The Register that tell their own story, a great and active battalion today started a canvass of every home in all communities and in all sections of the county. The workers are enthusiastic volunteers, inspired by the idealistic vision of bringing to the aid of the American Legion.

And while these warriors are making house to house calls, directors and members of the Santa Ana drum and bugle corps will be putting forth coordinated efforts to perfect a musical contingent that will be second to none in the minds of judges at the momentous national event that is little more than 30 days away. Drills are conducted each Tuesday and Thursday evenings at Santiago park.

End Hearings On Big Steel Strike

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(UP)—The Senate Civil Liberties committee today considered a demand by the Republic Steel corporation that affidavits of additional witnesses be procured to provide an "accurate" picture of last year's steel strike.

The committee concluded four weeks of open hearings on the strike last night after questioning Tom Girdler, Republic's board chairman, Girdler said that Chairman Robert M. La Follette Jr., Prog., Wis., had conducted them in a "polite and courteous manner," but added:

"Despite that fact, the hearings have served to paint a wholly one-sided picture of the controversy between Republic Steel and the CIO and have resulted in conveying an utterly distorted impression of the relations between Republic and its thousands of employees."

Held for Trial On Bigamy Charge

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 12.—(UP)—Richard P. Erbacher, 34, New York salesman, was bound over for superior court trial today on a charge of being married to two women.

The women were on the friendliest terms when they testified against Erbacher in the court of Municipal Judge Newsinger Erbacher. Mrs. Mildred Menzinger Erbacher, the first wife, and Mrs. Mary Schwartz Erbacher, the second wife, sat together, talked to each other, and told the court that until a short time ago neither had been aware of the existence of the other.

"No Accident"

Asked if the new transatlantic steamer record hung up by his ship, the Queen Mary, was planned or accidental, Commodore Robert B. Irving, above, with his victory smile, said: "We never do anything by accident."

TWO RESIGN POSTS IN TIDELAND FIGHT

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 12.—(UP)—Investigation of an asserted plan to gain control of $1,000,000 worth of tideland oil leases was halted today with resignation of two state officials involved in the charges.

Fred B. Wood, chairman of the state personnel board, announced he had received the resignations of Carl E. Sturzenacker, chief of the state division of lands, and H. A. Alexander, petroleum production inspector. Both men were accused in affidavits filed with the board of conspiring with associates to gain control of tideland property by filing claims before oil legislation passed by the legislature could become effective.

The affidavits were submitted by J. M. Midgley and Bert McAtee, former employees of the lands division. They charged Sturzenacker and Alexander were instrumental in organizing a company from employees of the division which, through possession of "inside" information, would be able to gain control of the tideland oil lands in the Wilmington district. The charges were laid before Wood, Attorney General U. S. Webb and Director of Finance Arlin E. Stockburger, in whose department the lands division is located.

Explains Aims Of Nazi Supporters

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(UP)—John C. Metcalfe, investigator for the house unamerican activities investigating committee, testified today that the primary aim of the 500,000 members or sympathizers with the Nazi movement in the United States is to establish a vast spy net.

Metcalfe, who became a member of the German-American Bund, told the committee that members of the Nazi organization even penetrated the national guard. At one time, he said, an entire company of the Illinois National Guard was made up of members of the Bund.

He said the Bund collaborated with the "Silver Shirts" and "Black Shirts" organizations, identifying the latter as an organization representing Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy. He said more than 15,000 uniforms for the Black Shirts have been sent here from Italy, of which 10,000 uniforms actually are in use.

PUBLIC MEETING CALLED TO PLAN NEW JUNIOR COLLEGE

Santa Ana may have a new junior college in spite of adverse reports made at a meeting last Tuesday at Newport high school when construction of a union junior college was considered, according to members of the board of education which met in a special session yesterday afternoon.

At yesterday's meeting, members of the citizens' committee who have interested themselves in the junior college project suggested that the public be invited to a general meeting to discuss the whole problem which Santa Ana faces in connection with the rapid development and growth of the school. The board of education, considering the suggestion, adopted a motion setting the general public meeting for August 18 at 7:30 p. m. in the city council chambers at city hall. The public was urged to attend.

SPAIN, ITALY ARE WARNED

LONDON, Aug. 12.—(UP)—Both Great Britain and France are deeply anxious because of the attitudes of Italy and Nationalist Spain toward the problem of foreign aid in the civil war, it was understood today. Warnings have been dispatched to both nations.

For the moment, according to reliable information, they have agreed to minimize the situation. But reports from Paris indicated that the French government would not wait longer than early next week for some sort of assurance. The anxiety was due to Nationalist delay in answering a proposal for withdrawal of foreign troops from Spain, and accompanying reports that Italy had resumed the dispatch of troops to aid the Nationalists.

There have been suggestions in Paris, from pro-Loyalist quarters, that the Nationalists are in urgent need of the Italian "volunteers" aiding them. The Nationalists are superior in aviation and artillery; the Loyalists in man power.

It was announced yesterday that the Nationalists had agreed to speed their answer to the troop withdrawal proposal, which the Loyalists have accepted. But coincidentally it was disclosed officially that Britain had addressed a strong reminder to the Italian government that if allegations of continued Italian intervention in Spain were true, the effect would be prejudicial not only to Spanish non-intervention arrangements generally but to British-Italian relations and to mutual hopes of effecting the British-Italian friendship treaty.

Further, Italy was reminded that France spontaneously, in anticipation of troop withdrawal, had closed her Pyrenees mountain frontier against supplies for the Loyalists.

City of Phoenix Wars With WPA

PHOENIX, Ariz., Aug. 12.—(UP)—Relations were sharply broken off between the Phoenix city government and the Works Progress Administration today in the climax of a fight between the two groups to determine which has the right to a projected public construction program.

"The WPA is not running Phoenix," Mayor Walter J. Thalheimer said. "And I don't think the WPA ought to tell the city what to do. I think the city ought to tell the WPA what projects it is to do."

The break came after local authorities unofficially opposed WPA help for city improvements, voicing a suspicion the relief group had "somehow" blocked Public Works Administration appropriations requests long overdue in Washington.

Tammany Head To Go On Trial

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—(UP)—Prosecution and defense were set today for the opening Monday of Tammany leader James J. Hines' trial on charges that he was the power behind New York's $100,000,000 a year lottery racket.

The trial promises to be the most sensational criminal action involving a major Tammany Hall figure since Boss William Marcy Tweed was sent to jail in 1871 for stealing $45,000,000 from the city treasury. District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, facing the biggest battle of his racket busting career, spent this week sifting and organizing the piles of evidence with which he hopes to show that Hines was the "higher up" who gave the late Dutch Schultz and his murderous henchmen legal immunity.

Twice In The Same Place

Striking twice in the same spot where exactly a year ago a similar bolt killed two bathers, a three-forked tongue of lightning lashed out of a freak thunderstorm over Jacob Riis Park, popular New York seaside resort, and killed two men and a woman. Some of the victims are pictured above as police and lifeguards worked over them.

Japanese Peace Maker Shot Down By Russians

TOKYO, Aug. 12.—(UP)—A member of a Japanese mission, touring the Manchukuo-Siberian border, was shot by an agent of the Russian secret police, the Domei News agency reported today from Shikika.

SON OF PRESIDENT ANSWERS CHARGES

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—(UP)—James Roosevelt, eldest son and secretary of President Roosevelt, replied today with charges of "dishonesty" and "cowardly lies" to recent intimations that he had obtained large insurance premiums as a result of his connection with the Roosevelt administration.

In an interview granted a Collier's magazine writer and published in the current issue, young Roosevelt declared that he had stood on his own feet as an insurance broker and solicitor. Since becoming a secretary to the president, he said, "I have not solicited nor attempted to solicit—no, and I haven't accepted—a single dollar of insurance from anyone, anytime, anywhere."

"Anything to the contrary," he added, "is a miserable lie." The interview was a reply to a recent Saturday Evening Post article, "Jimmy's Got It," written by Alva Johnston, who estimated "Jimmy's" earnings from the insurance business at somewhere between $250,000 and $2,000,000 a year. That article had intimated that Roosevelt's insurance firm had obtained large premiums from his relationship to the president and his official position at the White House.

It was arranged that today's meeting should be held at "a certain white house" to the east of the hill, and that written notes should be exchanged then confirming the verbal agreement.

The plenipotentiaries were Col. Goro Shio, for Japan, and Gen. Gregory Shtern, for Russia, hard-bitten field commanders who only a few hours before their first meeting had been directing troop operations against each other, ready for a real war.

Million Germans Plan Maneuvers

BERLIN, Aug. 12.—(UP)—German army maneuvers which may take 1,000,000 men into the field next week are not connected with the Sudeten German minority crisis in Czechoslovakia, government quarters said today.

Orders have gone out to requisition horses and other equipment for the maneuvers. Reserves will be called up to participate with regular troops.

The maneuvers are scheduled to begin Monday and will last until Aug. 20. They will be spread over a tremendous area instead of being concentrated as in the so-called "grand maneuvers."

Pope Defeat Held "Political Theft"

BOISE, Idaho, Aug. 12.—(UP)—A committee of Idaho's high-ranking Democrats today issued a statement terming the defeat of New Deal Senator James P. Pope in Tuesday's primary election a "political theft" and pointed out to voters of the state that the "means to repudiate the theft" are made available by law.

1000 KILLED IN TWO DAYS

HANKOW, Aug. 12.—(UP)—Japanese airplanes bombed the tri-city district of Hankow, Wuchang and Hanyang four times today and have now killed more than 1000 persons in two days of raiding. Seventy planes took part in today's attacks, which were the most destructive of the war.

More than 200 bombs were dropped on the three cities today and scored direct hits on the Saint Anne convent of the American church mission. Others fell near American property but no Americans were reported injured.

Fires lit up the cities and the countryside tonight, rising high above lubricating oil depots and thatch houses along the river banks.

Two bombs hit the Saint Anne convent. One demolished a chapel and the other destroyed most of the living quarters of the sisters of the order. Three Americans and two Chinese hiding beneath a staircase escaped uninjured.

Many villages, housing farmers and workmen, were in flames. Clouds of smoke billowed from lubricating oil depots which had been mistaken in earlier reports for foreign gasoline installations.

At the Wuchang railway station could be seen the main buildings and trains intact. The bombs missed the station in which several hundred civilians and soldiers had taken refuge. There were a dozen huge crates thrown up around the station and the rails were torn up.

A Japanese communique published in Shanghai said headquarters of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek in southwestern Szechang had been hit. The communique said flames rose 2000 feet over the Hankow station and nearby spinning and weaving mills.

Bombs were dropped on all parts of Hankow. Hardest hit was the northern section from where thousands of refugees were fleeing in anticipation of the biggest Japanese offensive of the war.

FIRST VOTE CAST IN AUGUST PRIMARIES

The first vote was cast today in the August 30 primary election.

Carl W. Wright, 224 Greenleaf street, Santa Ana, obtained the first absent-voter ballot, and cast it with County Clerk Basil J. Smith.

While it was the first vote cast, it will be among the last ballots counted, since absent-voter ballots are tabulated more than five days after the election.

Wright expects to be in Mexico City on election day, so took care of his voting before he departed, a privilege provided under California election laws. His sealed ballot will remain in the clerk's office until all absent-voter ballots are counted.

Applications for other absent-voter ballots also have been received by Clerk Smith, the second ballot being mailed to Edward Marion Browder Jr., of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A., who is in the Canal Zone, Panama, and to John C. Lucio, 2327 South Main street, Santa Ana, who is in Havana, Cuba.

Such ballots must be voted on or before election day, at the points to which they are mailed, and must be in the hands of the county clerk here no later than five days after the election.

Applications for absent-voter ballots cannot be filed with the county clerk later than August 25, five days before the election.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—(UP)—Associate Justice D. A. Cashin, 61, today announced his retirement from the state appellate court, effective with the expiration of his term, Dec. 31.

He said he might return to private law practice and had had retirement in mind for "some time." He has served 21 years in the state's courts and would have been eligible for retirement at the age of 70.

CITY TO GAIN CENTRALIZED FREIGHT UNIT

C. OF C. GROUP TO ACT MONDAY

All details for establishment of a Santa Ana freight station in Los Angeles that will save merchants of the city thousands of dollars each year, will be worked out Monday at a meeting of the board of directors of the local chamber of commerce.

This was the announcement today of George Spellman, chairman of the retail division of the chamber.

Centralized Shipping
Operator of the station will be J. Nelson Kazarise, who is operating similar stations at the present time for Santa Barbara, Alhambra, Long Beach, and other Southern California communities.

The station will centralize all shipping to merchants of the chamber of commerce who wish to join in the project and, by making one large shipment instead of numerous small ones, considerable saving will be made. Fifty per cent of the saving goes to the merchants and 50 per cent to the station operator who pays all cost of maintaining the ware-

TALK ON STUDY OF 'QUAKES' WINS TOASTMASTERS' CONTEST

"Earthquakes and Southern California" was the featured subject which won first place in the speaking contest at El night.

E. M. Sundquist, who won first honors, described a few of the underground "fault blocks" of California and the work being done by scientists in their study of earth slippage.

Need for Activity
Bill Fernandez, speaking on "Racksteers at Your Doorstep," presented a warning to be alert to the fraudulent solicitors who, annually, bilk the public out of two billion dollars, and John Jacob, speaking on "Work," gave a philosophical treatise on the need for a man in order to obtain happiness.

The two tied for second place honors.

Other Speakers
Other speakers included Leon Lauderbach on "What Are You Doing About It," a plea for faith in God and Jesus Christ as a leavening influence in times of stress; R. S. Lockaday on "Pasadena's Tournament of Roses," in which he told the famous parade's history, and Dr. A. E. Vallier on "Why Does Man Walk Erect?" biological story of man's progress.

Joe Danziger was toastmaster of the evening; Duane Armstrong, general critic; John Colwell, Herbert Hearle, Reine Chow, Phil Hood, John Maxwell and Dr. J. M. Ruppitt were critics. W. H. (Ted) Blanding and Ralph Smedley, guests, presented reports on the recent International convention at Tucson, Ariz.

Beulah May's Poetry Chosen Library Group

Beulah May's column of poetry that has been regularly published in The Register for seven years will form the nucleus of a new division of Southern California poetry to be established at Huntington Library in Pasadena, it was announced here yesterday by Lindley Dymun, head of the history department at the famed library.

Dymun, accompanied here by Dr. Hoyt Hudson, of Princeton university, who has been on the summer faculty of the U. C. L. A. this year, came to Santa Ana to interview Miss May and to commission her to assemble manuscripts of poetry from all Southern California, suitable for the Huntington Library collection. Dr. Hudson is head of the department of literature at Princeton.

The Register column of Miss May's poems, which have attracted wide attention, will provide the starting point for the new division of poetry at the Pasadena institution, Miss May was advised.

Here's What Mrs. Miars says:
"I bought a Bendix because I was sick and tired of lifting heavy wet clothes, running my hands in scalding hot water, scrubbing set tubs and all the tiresome wringing. I expected Bendix to be different, but I never dreamed a machine could be so completely automatic or could do so much and save so much."

CUTS SCREENS TO GET LOOT

Three daring burglaries, believed committed by the same person, were being investigated today by Santa Ana police. The loot totaled more than $70. All of the thefts occurred in the same neighborhood.

While the J. L. Hoffman family of 1217 South Parton, were in the front part of the home about 8:30 p. m. yesterday, someone cut a window screen at the rear, entered and ransacked the back part of the house, obtaining $50. Officers Charles W. Wolford, J. B. Stephenson and Clyde Flower reported.

Enters Farmer Home
Shortly after, the burglar entered the Ed Farmer home, 1221 South Parton, by the same method, used a flashlight and ransacked the entire home with the exception of the kitchen where Mrs. Farmer was washing supper dishes. She heard a noise and investigated but the burglar had escaped. He had obtained $15.35. Mary Tomblinson, 1214 South Parton, saw the escaping burglar, describing him as six feet tall, having a flashlight and being hatless and coatless.

While the O. P. Veach family and friends were having a party at 8:40 p. m. in the rear yard of their home, 1309 South Birch, a burglar ransacked the home, obtaining $5.50 in cash and articles, including a gold pencil.

Officers W. E. B. Sherwood and Cornish Blum are assisting in the investigations.

JACK RABBITS ARE THE MALES; COTTONTAILS, THE FEMALES.
RIGHT OR WRONG?

ANSWER: Jack rabbits and cottontails belong to separate groups, and there are males and females of each. Curiously, the jack rabbit is not a rabbit at all, but a hare, and belongs to the same genus as the hares of the Old World.

EX-CONVICT AND WIFE JAILED AFTER CHASE NEAR BUENA PARK
Ernest M. Brown, 33, ex-convict, now a painter for WPA, of El Toro, and his wife, Mrs. Minnie Brown, 26, Santa Ana, were jailed here on two separate charges last night following a thrilling automobile chase by Deputy Sheriffs Ezra Stanley and William Trapp.

According to the investigation, Mrs. Brown was attempting to pass a fictitious check for $15 at the Buena Park Drive-In market, Manchester boulevard and Grand avenue, when market employees became suspicious and refused to cash the check. When Mrs. Brown immediately began tearing up the check, the officers were called.

Woman at Market
Just as the officers arrived, they noticed a car moving away about an eighth-mile from the market and were advised to give chase while Mrs. Brown was held at the market. After a chase, the officers nabbed Brown and charged him with drunk driving and being drunk.

Mrs. Brown was charged with attempting to pass the bad check. Mrs. Brown assertedly admitted to the identification bureau, that she was Hermann Zabel, head of the sheriff's identification bureau, that she was hungry and needed food but the officers found $51 cash on Brown's person, they said. Brown has a long and varied prison record from the time he was a juvenile.

"DUAL PARTY" BAN IS ASKED

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12. — (UP)—The state supreme court was asked today to bar from the ballot candidates for office who filed on more than one party ticket.

The request, in the form of a petition for writs of mandate, was made by Scott Weller, Los Angeles, candidate for state controller, and Edward L. Thrasher, Los Angeles, candidate for the state board of equalization, fourth district.

Would Affect Scores
They contended that a law permitting filing on more than one ticket has been repealed.

Although both men named specific candidates opposing them, their move, if upheld by the court, would affect scores of candidates in the primary.

'RELIEF UNION' HELD MENACE

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12. — (UP)—Unionization of men and women on relief is "the greatest menace facing the United States today," Philip Bancroft, Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate, said today at a campaign luncheon.

"The Workers' Alliance, a definitely Communist organization," Bancroft said, "has taken hold of the so-called unionizing of men and women on relief and through the agencies of the WPA."

"If these radical agitators succeed in their objective of forming compact bodies of unfortunate American citizens now on relief it can only lead to disaster and a chaotic United States; with Bolshevism staring us right in the face."

Highway Patrol Head Suspended

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 12.—(UP)—Captain Paul Perussina, in charge of the San Mateo county state highway patrol, was suspended indefinitely today, pending investigation of "incompetency, inefficiency, physical disability, discourtesy and exercise of bad judgment."

The accusations against Perussina, who joined the patrol in 1935, were filed with the state personnel board. Perussina has 10 days in which to file an answer. The board can uphold suspension and order his dismissal, overrule the charge and exonerate him, or demote him from his present rank.

To fascinating Spanish music and the click of castanets, to the jangle of silver spurs and prancing of magnificent horses, Santa Barbara once again is celebrating her romantic Spanish past. Colorful parades, plays, pageants and joyous informal entertainment fill the three-day program, which attracts visitors from all parts of the nation.

"OLD SPANISH DAYS" TO END IN SANTA BARBARA SATURDAY

To lilting old-world melodies and the click of castanets, to the jingle of silver spurs and the prancing of spirited horses, Santa Barbara once again is celebrating her famous "Old Spanish Days" Fiesta. The four-day affair ends Saturday night. Old Spanish customs and old Spanish tunes will be revived as in colorful pageants, parades and other joyous entertainment, the city recaptures the romance of her Spanish past.

"Nacimiento de Santa Barbara," reflecting the friendliness and spontaneous gaiety of their happy-hearted forebears, they always contribute much to the "Old Spanish Days" festivities. Watching the scene, wrap and absorbed, are thousands of people, seated about the lawn or rimmed along the loggias or picturesque outdoor stairways.

The sunken gardens of the city's white-walled court house serve as a setting for an enchanting entertainment in the Spanish manner. Each evening at the courthouse, and typical of life in Alta California—descendants of Santa Barbara's early families gather to sing old-world songs and dance the complicated steps in which Barbaenos of old delighted. In their joyous, sparkling entertainment, reflecting the friendliness and spontaneous gaiety of their happy-hearted forebears, they always contribute much to the "Old Spanish Days" festivities. Watching the scene, wrap and absorbed, are thousands of people, seated about the lawn or rimmed along the loggias or picturesque outdoor stairways.

JAIL NOT "SPOON-PROOF"

MARYSVILLE, Cal., (UP)—The city jail here was demonstrated not to be "spoon-proof" when two inmates with a single cheap teaspoon dug all the mortar out from between enough bricks to enable them to depart.

LET'S HAVE A PICNIC

By Julia Lee Wright
Director, Safeway Homemakers' Bureau

One needn't plan ahead for a picnic. The kind I enjoy most start on a nice sunny day, when someone suggests, "Let's have a picnic," and everyone hops into the car and off we go.

The food problem is solved so simply by a stop at the first Safeway store we see along the way. There we pick up paper plates, cups, napkins, cold sliced meats and wieners, rolls, tomatoes, lettuce, mayonnaise or other salad fixings, potato chips, bread, in fact the whole works.

Of course, some cooling refreshment mustn't be forgotten. We usually take along a few bottles of sparkling beverages, also some milk, and a few cans of tomato juice. And for dessert, a cake from Safeway's pastry shelves and fresh luscious fruit from the produce section.

Arriving at a quiet, grassy dell or a bit of secluded beach, out we pile for a few hours of fun and relaxation. Then, with appetites sharp, all turn "cook", each person fixing his or her own sandwiches to taste.

This way, a picnic is no burden or worry to anyone. And it usually costs less than the picnic one prepares after elaborate planning.

Mixing Bowl BY ANN MEREDITH

Who said, "Bread is the staff of life"? It may be true today, but it wasn't in the age when man was becoming aware that his backbone was put there to help him stand erect. Meat was the staff of life to prehistoric man, but it is interesting to surmise how Mrs. Prehistoric stumbled onto the art of bread making: wild fruit and seeds were gleaned and eaten whole until some older whose teeth were bad had the bright thought to pound his seeds with a rock. But that wasn't all to the good, for the coarse meal was too dry for comfortable eating. The next step was to add water to the pounded seed, and the ration was eaten in the hand, standing by the communal fire. Right here is where Mrs. P. comes in: she saw some of the watered meal drop into the fire where it baked and scorched but gave forth a smell so enticing she was glad to burn her fingers to get it, so she baked some more, and still more, this time making it into flat cakes, the first "unleavened bread" in history. Then, one bright summer day, she went gadding and the meal and water she had mixed for supper began to ferment. Fearing a beating, she poked down the bubbling smelly mass and shaped her cakes as usual, but to make them, they went up and up and spread, but for all that they baked and tasted so good, that then and there the primitive yeast bread came into existence. "Sour dough" bread is today, almost as it was in that day, but only the intelligent scientific mind could develop yeast as we have it today.

The idea that bread must be eliminated from a reducing diet is all wrong; never forget that "fat burn only in the fire of starches," and bread is the best way to get your starch "kindling". Our Safe and Sane diet allows bread, as well as other good things, so don't delay in sending for your copy. Please enclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

TODAY'S RECIPES Virginia Batter Bread

Mix together:
1 cup yellow or white corn meal
1 tsp shortening and
1 cup boiling water poured into meal slowly.

Beat together:
1/2 cup top milk
2 egg yolks
2 scant tps baking powder and
2/3 tsp salt
Whip 2 egg whites stiff
Add an additional cup of milk.
The first part is a semi-raw corn meal mush. Quickly stir into this mush milk, egg yolks and baking powder. Whip well, add the extra cup of milk and whip the stiff egg whites through the thin batter. Bake the batter in a large shallow pan, well buttered, the oven quick and the time about 15 minutes. Serve it hot, in large squares, with honey and butter. It is a grand change for a breakfast bread.

Delicious Graham Bread

Mix together:
1/3 cup sugar and
3 cups graham flour.
Sift 1 cup white flour with 1 tsp salt and
3 rounded tps baking powder.
Mix together:
2 1/2 cups sweet milk and
1/4 cup cooking molasses.
Add 1 cup raisins and 1 cup unchopped walnut meats.
Prepare the two flours and mix quickly with milk and molasses, working raisins and nuts into dough before it becomes too stiff. Fill small oiled bread tins half full, let stand 30 minutes, then start baking in a hot oven until the dough has risen; cut the heat and bake 50 minutes longer.

Variations For This Bread

Prune bread: use 2 cups chopped prunes and the nuts.

Date bread: 1 large cup chopped dates and 1/2 cup raisins.

HUGE FISHING BARGE AT H. B.

The Star of Hollywood, claimed to be America's finest fishing barge, now anchored some three miles off shore from Huntington Beach, after several months of undergoing a rebuilding program transforming the 300 foot all-steel ship into a modern fishing barge.

The ship's three upper decks house the cafe, dining rooms, dance floor, cocktail lounge, promenade and state rooms, while portions of the main deck and an all-steel fishing platform welded to the ships on both sides about six feet from the water line are reserved for fishermen and are equipped with seats and convenient live-bait containers to accommodate three hundred fishermen at one time.

Captain A. G. Hellman announces that the only charge for visitors boarding the ship will be a round trip fare of twenty-five cents for the water taxi or shoreboat service unless fishing privileges, tackle and live-bait is desired for which a charge of one dollar is to be made for either day or night fishing and that shore prices will be maintained for services aboard.

SOUTH MAIN STREET PROGRAM PROPOSED

A three-way improvement program for South Main street from First street to Fairview avenue, was being sought today by business men and property owners of the district who plan to present their request to city council Monday night.

Petitions were being circulated today and will be circulated tomorrow, asking immediate action for improvement of the thoroughfare, as follows:

1. Completion of widening of Main, First to Fairview.
2. Removal or trimming of all trees and shrubbery which interfere with operation of business houses on South Main.
3. Increase of lighting to not less than two 200-watt bulbs in each double standard on South Main between First and Fairview.

Fullerton Case Is Set Up For Week

Completion of the hearing of a writ of mandate asked by H. Ina Gerritt, dismissed Fullerton high school teacher who seeks reinstatement as a permanent teacher, was deferred until next week when Superior Judge C. E. Beaumont of Fresno, recessed his court for the week-end at the close of yesterday's session. The case will be resumed Monday.

Miss Gerritt, home economics teacher at Fullerton since 1931, claims that she spent three-fifths of her time as teacher in high school, which would give her permanent status under the teachers' tenure law. The school board, which declined to renew her contract last year, contends that she is employed by the junior college, where no tenure is acquired because it has less than 550 students enrolled.

Roosevelt Returns To Capital Today

indications of his preferences in the Georgia and South Carolina primaries. At Barnsville, Ga., he delivered a smashing blow at Conservative Sen. Walter F. George, D. Ga., and asked for the nomination of Lawrence Camp, U. S. district attorney at Atlanta and a staunch supporter of his administration.

At Greenville, S. C., he made obvious his support of Gov. Olin D. Johnston, young South Carolina Governor who seeks the senatorial nomination on the claim he is a "100 per cent Roosevelt man." By inference, Mr. Roosevelt rejected conservative Sen. Ellison D. "Cotton Ed" Smith, D. S. C., and promised to return to South Carolina later, apparently to make his views on the primary more definite.

In the case of Sen. George, he asked forthrightly naming names, for his defeat. In the case of Sen. Smith of South Carolina, his meaning was no less direct and forceful, though he did not mention his adversary by name. But, compensatingly, Sen. George had been treated personally with courteous consideration, whereas Sen. Smith was handled with scant ceremony.

URGE 'BITSY' GRANT TO ABANDON TENNIS

RYE, N. Y.—(UP)—Bywan Grant Jr., of Atlanta, "mighty mite" of tennis, was advised today to give up the game temporarily "or probably wind up in a wheel chair."

Grant, who collapsed twice while playing in the Eastern lawn championships at the Westchester Country club yesterday, laughed at the warning and said "I'm all right, and I have no intention of defaulting today."

Grant, who has not fully regained his strength from a recent appendectomy, first collapsed in the third and deciding set against Frank Gurnsey of Orlando, Fla. He revived after he had been given first aid, and won his way into the quarter-final round. After the match he fainted again, and was ordered to bed by Dr. E. J. Healey, who discovered "Bitsy's" blood pressure had sunk to the "perilous level" of 70.

As the No. 4 national and a member of last year's Davis Cup team, Grant was seeded third for the Eastern title. His scheduled opponent today was Jack Kramer of Montebello, Cal.

WYLLIE TRIAL IS SET FOR WEDNESDAY

Trial of Hubert Raymond Wyllie, 26, 212 West Amerige avenue, Fullerton, was set for next Wednesday at 10 a. m. when Wyllie appeared in the court of City Judge F. E. Hallman this morning on charges of drawing and exhibiting a deadly weapon, a pistol, and assuming a threatening attitude. Charges were brought by Henry C. Stephens, manager of the Cal-Juices Incorporated of Anaheim.

The action was brought about by an argument at 6 p. m. last night over possession of the Santa Barbara Juice plant on South Cypress street, Orange, of which Stephens was manager until recently. Wyllie pled not guilty to the charge. He was arrested by police and bail which he furnished was set at $50. Stephens in a statement made this morning said that Wyllie had asked him to meet him at the Santa Barbara plant to discuss possession of the Orange Juice factory.

They filed notice of intention to wed at the Monterey county marriage license bureau here yesterday and announced the ceremony would be held "somewhere" on the Monterey peninsula Sunday.

Although neither principal would explain the reason for a second marriage ceremony it was believed they were prompted by recent court rulings reflecting on the legality of Mexican marriages.

Restless Youth Disappears; Camp Trip Suspected

Making elaborate plans for a special adventure, either hunting in the San Bernardino mountains, fishing at San Diego, or attending a Boy Scout convention in San Francisco, according to belief of his father, George Morris Jr., 16, Anaheim, disappeared from home at 1 a. m. today.

Morris sr., worried over his son's disappearance, asked sheriff's officers to hunt the youth. Young Morris cached his hunting and fishing equipment and 10 days' supply of food in an orchard adjacent to his home, footprints show, according to the father, took the family car and left.

Boy friends of the neighborhood had been advised young Morris was going one of the three places, said the father.

The boy, driving a 1937, four-door Studebaker sedan, license X-1474, carried about $15 with him. He is described as being five feet, three inches tall, weighing 110 pounds, having brown hair, blue eyes and nose skinned in a recent fall. He was wearing khaki shirt and pants and high-top boots. He wears glasses and has the third finger of his left hand missing. He is a member of Fullerton Troop 90, the report shows.

Easier Credit At Hospitals Asked

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Aug. 12.—(UP)—R. D. Brisbane, superintendent of Sutter Hospital in San Francisco, made a plea for easier credit for patients in an address before the western institute of hospital administration, now in session here.

"Hospital bills are usually undesired and unexpected," he said. "Hospitals should meet the patient half way in extending credit. It is stupid to believe that the majority of people needing medical care are trying to take advantage of the hospital."

Brisbane advocated an installment payment system for patients who cannot pay bills in a lump sum on short notice.

Crossland has indicated he will plead not guilty to the charge.

LATE NEWS FROM ORANGE

Birthday Affair Held In Pasadena

ORANGE, Aug. 12.—A group of Orange people attended an attractively appointed garden dinner in Pasadena this week. Hosts were Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Jackson, 308 Filmore street, that city. The dinner was given to honor Miss Bonnie Masten, a niece from Texas, who has spent the summer in Southern California, a part of the time in this city, and in the observance of the birthday of J. L. Pannell, 167 South Cambridge street.

The garden is an especially lovely one with many flowers and a lily pool and two tables were placed on the green lawn when dinner was served. Colored linen covers were used with a pottery service in bright colors.

A birthday cake was served with the dessert course. Present were the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Pannell; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Pannell; Miss Masten; Miss Esther Cloughader and Miss Claudia Witlick, of Pasadena.

The speaker explained that accidents in the county are recorded every night on a map kept especially for this purpose. When it is found that a large number of accidents are happening in a specified area this area is given especial attention, he said.

Captain Meehan stated that at one time many accidents were occurring on Harbor boulevard due to failure of drivers to make a boulevard stop. Following selective enforcement of traffic laws on this highway, the accidents shortly dropped to a low point, he said.

The officer pointed out that the number of traffic accidents and deaths in Orange county at this time are lower than at a corresponding time last year.

Tells Accident Causes
July accidents numbering 37 with one fatality, were from the following causes, the officer stated: speeding, nine; failure to make boulevard stops, five; failure to give right-of-way, one; improper passing, two; cutting in, three; passing on blind curves, three; pedestrian crossing improperly, one; the rest, miscellaneous causes.

G. W. Coltrane was program chairman.

Proceeding the talk a mock trial was held when W. J. Crist was charged with owning a driverless automobile. Crist's car some time ago rolled out of the garage, down a small slope and around a corner on its own momentum. C. J. Hessel was judge, Martell Thompson and W. H. Lowry attorneys for the defense and C. I. Thomas, prosecuting attorney. Frank Collins presided at the meeting.

MEEHAN TELLS CRASH CAUSES

ORANGE, Aug. 12.—Capt. Henry Meehan of state highway patrol was speaker at a meeting of the Orange Rotary club yesterday, when he outlined duties and activities of his organization in this county. In preventing accidents, Meehan said, it has been found that a procedure called "selective enforcement" has been most effective in cutting down traffic accidents in certain areas.

DANZ AIDS ON GERSHWIN BOOK

In a group with 37 other famous authors, critics, musicians, painters in a pictorial biography of George Gershwin is the name of Louis Danz, well known Orange county music and art critic.

Merle Armitage, editor of the book, says in the preface: "This book is written by the friends of George Gershwin, many of whom played important roles in his career. Beyond encouraging those who have contributed these sketches, no editorial guidance has been imposed."

Towers Like Mountain Danz' contribution to the biography of Gershwin is a comparison of the music of Arnold Schoenberg, outstanding American classicist composer, with that of Gershwin, the modern "romanticist."

In his criticism Danz points out that "Schoenberg towers like a mountain peak up which only the most daring would venture. While down below in the warm valleys the people listen to Gershwin."

Never Formal, But Warm "Schoenberg is so gigantic that they cannot get him into their houses. But Gershwin is so persuasive that his entrance even if uninvited, seems unobtrusive and natural—never formal, but warm like a hand-shake."

Other artists who have contributed sketches to the volume include Walter Damrosch, Irving Berlin, DuBose Hayward, Paul Whiteman, Rudy Vallee, Gilbert Seldes, S. N. Behrman, and Arnold Schoenberg.

Outstanding compositions of Gershwin include "Rhapsody in Blue," the opera "Porgy and Bess," and "An American in Paris."

PEPSI-COLA SUES COCA-COLA CONCERN

Suit has been filed in the Supreme court of Queens county by the Pepsi-Cola company against the Coca-Cola company, asking for a restraining order to enjoin the Coca-Cola company from interfering with the Pepsi-Cola company, its subsidiaries and licensees throughout the United States.

Simultaneously with the filing of this bill of complaint against the Coca-Cola company, a petition has been filed in the U. S. Patent office in Washington, D. C. by the Pepsi-Cola company attacking the validity of the Coca-Cola trademark. It is claimed that the trademark was obtained "through untruthful and fraudulent statements made in the application for trademark registration."

The petition further states that the names "Coca" and "Cola" are both descriptive names, are public property, and, therefore, cannot be used exclusively by the Coca-Cola company.

The bill of complaint alleges that the Pepsi-Cola trademark has been in existence and in continuous use for more than 35 years; and that during all that period Pepsi-Cola has been sold side-by-side in competition with Coca-Cola; and that its rights have never been challenged in the United States by anyone during this entire period.

"Humane Bits"

By FLORENCE A. ROBINSON

I wish the Creator had put just a little less soulful eyes in spaniels, for all we have gotten from Wag dog since we came back from Big Bear are reproachful glances. We know she is trying to say, "Ye Gods, what a life. Just sit and sleep and scratch."

Well, we don't blame her, for two dinky weeks' vacation out of 52 doesn't give much time for being gloriously lazy and carefree.

Winkie Cat was mighty glad to see his family, looking a bit more plumper and in excellent condition, thanks to the kind ministrations of Leona Leeling.

Mrs. Leeling says that Winkie, her yellow rascal, Sandy, although bosom pals when out of doors, did nothing but growl and make passes at each other when she put them indoors for the night. And she said, she felt like blistering both.

Now about well behaved pets. Tommy McFadden, who lives just a hop, skip and a jump over on Greenleaf, has the nicest spaniel anyone would want. Rusty is his name, and he hasn't been a member of the family so very long but whoever raised him knew their combinations.

Tommy eats his lunch each day at a small table in the back yard, with Rusty sitting up so straight and expectant in a chair right across. With his forepaws daintily placed at the edge of the table, Rusty only eats when fed, and the rest of the time sits like a prim little child waiting to be spoken to.

You know, this column is written primarily to acquaint you with Santa Ana's animal population, and to put across now and then a few words in behalf of the Orange County Humane society. Although the society is waiving summer meetings, its humane officer, Otto G. Puchert, is functioning one hundred per cent, and that means that the society has gasoline bills to pay for the many errands of mercy he is called upon each day. So, if you like this column I would appreciate very much if you would join the society (dues $1 per year) or donate whatever you may care to for the fine work Mr. Puchert is doing. You may send donations or memberships to yours truly, the secretary, Orange County Humane society, 2102 North Flower, or to the president, Mrs. A. P. Nelson, 319 West First street.

Thank you!

STATE URGES RIGHT ADDRESS

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 12.—Department of Employment officials today cautioned claimants for unemployment insurance to make certain that proper addresses are available at all times.

Approximately 40 per cent of the checks returned to the department after they have been mailed to claimants are marked by the post office "Moved, left no address." Another 20 per cent of the checks are marked "No such address." The remainder are marked "Address unknown," indicating that the claimant had not given the proper street and number when applying for his benefits.

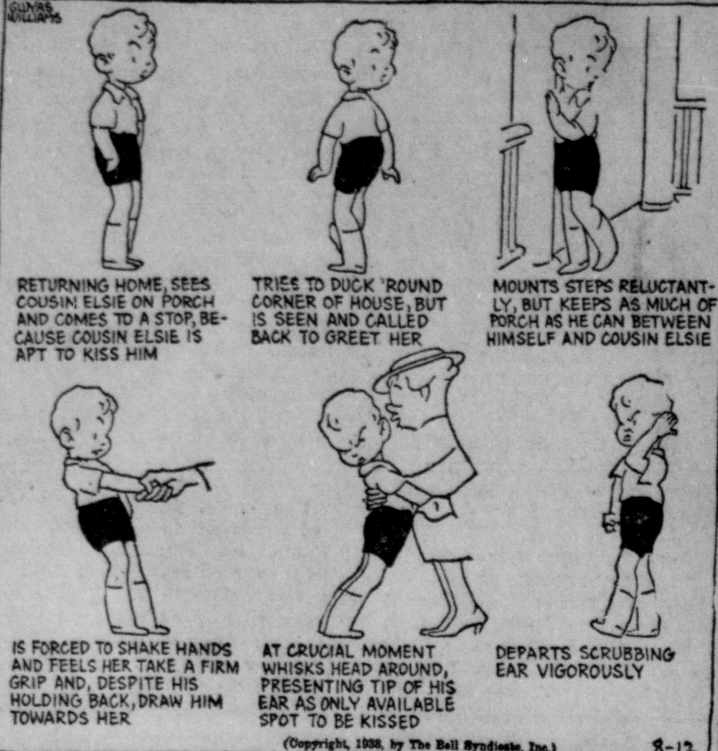

The department is anxious to have the proper addresses not only because of the fact the claimant in almost every instance needs the checks, but also because auditing functions are facilitated when the checks are received and cashed by claimants.

The department also desires to stress again the fact that as soon as a worker is out of a job, he is eligible to file his claim for compensation. Reports that employers are informing workers they must wait four weeks until the claim can be filed have been received. This statement is without fact. A four-week waiting period must be served by the claimant once annually before he can establish his right to draw benefit for the ensuing year.

DR. GEORGE HART GETS HIGH AWARD

BERKELEY, Aug. 12.—The Twelfth International Veterinary Congress, now meeting in New York, awarded its yearly prize to Dr. George H. Hart, professor of animal husbandry in the University of California, "for the most outstanding work of the year in veterinary science." Announcement of the award was made here by Dean Claude B. Hutchinson of the college of agriculture. The prize is the highest award than can be given any organized veterinarian or veterinary science teacher in the country.

Entire Division
The prize was received by Dr. C. M. Herring of the division of animal husbandry, to be tendered to Dr. Hart, who was unable to be present at the congress. In making the award the congress noted that the prize is in recognition of not only Dr. Hart's work, but that of the entire division. The work which drew the award is the uniting of the production field of animal husbandry with the basic sciences, principally genetics, nutrition and comparative physiology.

2 "CHISELERS" ARE SENTENCED

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Aug. 12.—Officials of the State Department of Employment today had received word of two more sentences meted out by California judges to asserted "chiselers" on the Unemployment Trust Fund.

Eugene Ferry, night clerk in a San Diego hotel was sentenced to 15 days in the county jail in that city on charges of making a false statement when applying for unemployment compensation.

Sentence Suspended
In Los Angeles Victor Smoody of North Hollywood was given a suspended sentence of 180 days on each of two charges of theft in connection with the obtaining of unemployment compensation funds. Smoody pleaded guilty to the charge.

Department of Employment officials said prosecutions would continue if further instances of chiseling on the fund were noted.

RECREATION CENTER PROPOSED AT LAGUNA

CITY TO SEEK FEDERAL FUNDS

LAGUNA BEACH, Aug. 12.—Possibility of the establishment of a 25-acre recreation center near the mouth of Laguna canyon became known yesterday, following announcement that application for a PWA loan to cover part of the cost, will be filed in the near future.

Endorsed By Chamber
The plans, which were unanimously endorsed by the local chamber of commerce and the realty board will be submitted for approval of the public at a bond issue election in the near future.

Tentative plans include acquisition of the tract of land, now part of the Irvine property, and installation of a swimming pool, tennis and horseshoe courts; shuffleboard, barbecue pits and picnic grills; a botanical and pleasure park; wading and playground for children and a bowl for concerts.

Observation Platforms
Additional features suggested are two "observation platforms" on high points of the tract, affording unexcelled views along the coast and towards the mountains. Randolph H. Bainbridge, city councilman and ex-officio member of the Laguna Beach Recreation commission, is working out details of the plan.

Charges Hurlled At Fish Commission

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—(UP)—Operators of shoreside sardine reduction plants said today the fish and game commission granted an offshore plant a 30,000 ton quota for 1938.

They charged this was violation of an agreement whereby all plants, shoreside and floating, voluntarily restricted themselves to 5,000 ton quotas at the commission's request for the sake of conservation.

Shoreside spokesmen said the commission, "taking advantage of the absence of its chairman, Isadore Zellerbach," granted the 30,000 ton quota at its meeting in San Francisco last Wednesday.

Man Charged With Slapping Woman
C. C. Benedict, 42, collector of 2050 South Broadway, was booked at county jail last night on a charge of assault and battery before his release, pending hearing on $100 bail.

According to report of Officers L. C. Rogers and Herman Stahl, Benedict is accused in a complaint signed by Mrs. J. M. Johnson of Santa Ana, of slapping Mrs. Johnson's face so hard he knocked her off of the porch at his home when she came to collect some money he owed her.

Japanese Refuse U. S. Requests

SHANGHAI, Aug. 12.—(UP)—Japanese naval authorities today denied the request of United States officials to permit the American gunboat Oahu to relieve the U. S. S. Monocacy at Kiangling where a food and fuel shortage was reported.

The refusal was interpreted as further intensification of the Japanese control of the Yangtze river. It was understood to have been based on the contention that the river is unsafe, despite the continuous up-river parade of Japanese warships and transports.

A reliable source said the Japanese also had strongly urged the Monocacy to remain at Kiangling. This was interpreted as a Japanese effort to prevent a foreign gunboat demonstration proving the river safe.

According to allegations of L. S. Carlisle, 912 Orange avenue, he saw the youth step from a house at Sixth and Birch, hurl some rocks at the nearby church, then run back into the house. Hopkins is charged with committing malicious mischief.

NEWPORT OFFICIALS FILE NEW DEMURRER

Newport Beach city officials sued by Fred Reif, Santa Ana plumber, for a writ of mandate to compel renewal of his license to operate in the beach city, today filed a demurrer to his petition in superior court.

The demurrer, general in character, asserted that Reif's petition did not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action. It was filed by members of the plumbers examining board, Sam Kinsfather, U. C. Smith and Lewis Wright, and by City Clerk Frank Rinehart. These were the officials sued.

Reif, who held a license during 1937, after passing the required examination for it, applied for a renewal last June 30 when it expired, but was told he must again take the examination, he alleged.

He contends that the Newport city ordinance does not require such examination for a renewal of license. The court is asked to grant the writ compelling the officials to renew his license.

Loptien Estate Set at $19,980

Inventory and appraisal of the joint tenancy estate, left by Mrs. Christine F. Loptien, of Orange, who died March 28, was filed today in superior court by James B. Utt, state appraiser, who fixed a valuation of $19,980. Property in Orange, Los Angeles, Kern and Tulare counties are included, with notes and mortgages, other securities and cash.

Utt also filed an inventory and appraisal of the Henry Freese estate, giving it a valuation of $4,239.05. Stocks and bonds comprise the estate.

Mrs. Margaret Davis, charged with arson in connection with the recent burning of her home and beauty parlor, pleaded not guilty.

4 TEACHERS HIRED BY LOCAL BOARD

Four teachers were formally approved for the staff of the Santa Ana school system yesterday at a special meeting of the Board of Education.

To fill the position left by the resignation of Richard Garrett, as teacher in history and social science at Santa Ana high school at a salary of $1800. She has had eight years of experience.

CALL TWO PUBLIC HEARINGS ON IMPROVEMENTS AT BEACH

NEWPORT BEACH, Aug. 12.—Advertising of two additional public hearings of August 17 and 24 on a revised program of municipal improvements at an estimated cost of $558,092 was ordered following a conference yesterday afternoon between the city planning commission and city council.

City council members will hold a hearing on the proposed projects five days after the final planning board hearing of August 24. It will be possible to hold a bond election approximately 40 days following the commission's final hearing.

Propositions for which public hearings will be held include first, construction of civic center which will include the city hall, police station, jail and necessary equipment at an estimated $90,000, additions to city water system including fire protection on Balboa island, tanks and pumping plants at $141,819, construction and reconstruction of sewer system including installation of an underground pumping station at $127,273, reconstruction of Newport pier at $25,000, construction of public street between Adams and "B" street at Balboa and construction of bulkhead to protect it from the ocean at $140,000, and construction of public building at Corona del Mar including showers, locker room and playground at estimated cost of $34,000.

Among the items for consideration at the meeting of the city council Monday evening will be the year-old recreational program at Corona del Mar.

Realtors Act On "Manager Plan"

Hopes for greater municipal economy under city manager form of government in Santa Ana today prompted members of the Santa Ana Realty board to vote to send a direct communication requesting city council to immediately set in motion the machinery to present the proposed to the voters before the legislature convenes January 1.

Intermediate steps in the action is the drafting of a city charter which, according to Attorney John Layton, the council can frame with Layton, the council can frame with an advisory board, and present to the people for ratification before the meeting of the legislature. Harvey, in his presentation, declared that constant duplication of

LET CONTRACT ON PIPE LINES

MIDWAY CITY, Aug. 12.—With mass meetings for residents of Midway City Water District No. 1 held this week, decision was rushed to put in an entirely new system of pipe lines and the contract was let to the Kelly Pipe company, of Los Angeles.

The entire cost of 10,000 feet of four and six inch tarred and wrapped pipe, guaranteed for a 45 year period, 15 fire plugs and all fittings is placed at $4500, with $1000 as down payment and $100 per month with interest.

The district lies directly west of Huntington Beach boulevard, four blocks to the east and between First street and Hazard street on the south and north. There are 160 water users in the district, which is self supporting. Fifty cents will be added to the $1.50 water rate now in effect.

The directors of the water district are N. A. Nelson, president; J. A. Houlihan, secretary-treasurer and H. Potts.

Hurricanes Lash Florida Coast

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 12.—(UP)—Winds of 70 mile intensity lashed Grand Canyon Island in the north-western Caribbean seas today. A tropical disturbance there increased to near hurricane force.

The storm, the federal hurricane warning system advised, was centered near Grand Canyon at 7 a. m. E.S.T. and was expected to move northwest or west-northwest. Hurricane winds of 75 miles an hour or greater were expected in northern Yucatan, the western end of Cuba, the Yucatan channel and the Gulf of Mexico.

The storm "will continue to increase," the warning system said. The disturbance, first located Wednesday in the southeastern Caribbean passed across the island of Jamaica yesterday afternoon but at that time was little more than a squall with wind of 40 miles an hour.

Two Bank Robbers Pay Death Penalty

LEAVENWORTH, Kans., Aug. 12.—(UP)—Two New York bank robbers and parole violators, Robert J. Suhay, 25, and Glen John Applegate, 46, were hanged together in an outdoor court of the federal penitentiary today for the slaying of a federal agent in the Topeka, Kans., postoffice.

In the front line of the semi-circle of witnesses stood H. H. Baker, state senator of Yuma, Ariz., the father of Wimberly W. Baker, 27, the agent who was killed when he attempted to arrest them in the postoffice on April 16, 1937.

The trap was sprung at 3:01 a. m. Suhay, a hook nosed youthful appearing man of Hungarian descent, was pronounced dead at 4:17 a. m. Applegate died two minutes later. Both met their death calmly—with the unconcern that Applegate expressed a few days ago when he refused to see a minister.

The PAYOFF

By JERRY BRONDFIELD
(NEA Service Sports Writer)

You can call them the Duffy Dodgers and you can ridicule them for stealing third when someone already is on the bag, but the Brooklyn bunch at Ebbets Field are proving they knew what they were doing when they signed Larry MacPhail to guide their destinies.

The Brooklyn Dodgers don't figure to wind up in a first division berth this year, but they'll probably make more money in 1938 than any sixth-place club has made in a long, long time.

Under Larry the Showman's astute care the Dodgers already have played to more than 200,000 fans at home. Even if the gates fall away to a couple of thousand every day from now to Oct. 2, the Dodgers still will wind up very much in the black.

And a couple of years from now they might refer to Larry MacPhail as the prophet who showed the way out of the baseball wilderness and into the light—literally and figuratively.

SMART TO SIGN RUTH EVEN AT $15,000

MacPhail, who first tried the idea at Cincinnati and found it worked, has seen 153,298 fans storm their way into Ebbets Field for five night games. At one game they had to take the center field screen down an hour before game time and there still wasn't enough room for customers. The fire department was forced to turn away 10,000 more who clamored outside the turnstiles seeking admission.

MacPhail has turned on the color just as a movie glamor gal turns on the charm, and the Dodgers are setting returns on their investments. He signed the Ruth for a $15,000 coaching contract and will get his 15 G's back a couple of times over, just from fans who come to see the Bambino belt 'em out in batting practice.

COLORFUL NIGHT BALL WOULD MAKE NEW FANS

Other baseball magnates might do well to follow MacPhail's lead in this night game business. A program of 10 or 12 such affairs a season would click very well at the box office. The novelty of it (if kept a novelty) would bring the customers out in droves. That much has been proven already at Cincinnati and Brooklyn.

It would make a lot of new fans—the new workers and other daytime employees who have their evenings free. And a lot of those new fans would come back on Sundays, and whenever they could get away.

PREDICT NORTH TREK FOR PRO FOOTBALL

Johnny Blood, playing coach of the Pittsburgh football players, contends that the National League teams soon will be taking northern training trips, very much like those taken by major league clubs below the Mason-Dixon line, or in California.

The intense heat of the August sun complicates the task of training a group of pro footballers, who because of the heat and the college variety, present a little different problem.

According to Blood, Northern Minnesota and Wisconsin, and possibly the Canadian border country, will be the ultimate answer to the problem.

TAKE COACHES FROM PRO RANKS

Gone is the day when graduated Notre Dame halfbacks, tackles, etc., were immediately pounced upon as the best coaching talent available. Football, however, is an ever-changing picture, and now one of the tendencies is to comb the pro ranks for men who would make the right type of college coach.

This year Cliff Battles will depart from the world champion Washington Redskins to act as assistant to Lou Little at Columbia. Ray Richards of the Chicago Bears has taken a job as line coach at U. C. L. A. Dick Clark has forsaken the Brooklyn Dodgers for a position at Kansas. Keith Moleworts, erstwhile Chicago Bear quarterback, becomes assistant at Navy. and Glenn Pressnell of Detroit has gone back to Nebraska, his alma mater.

Ernie Nevers, former Chicago Cardinal star, and Paddy Driscoll, once with the Bears, are in their second year at Iowa and Marquette, respectively.

No doubt 1937 will mark the last year of active pro competition for a lot of others.

FRINK IS MANAGER

Fred Frink, former Illinois grid and baseball star who has played in the Texas league for two years, has been appointed manager of the Longview club of the East Texas league, a Class C loop.

Playoff Schedule

Monday, Aug. 15.—Elks vs. Elitiste, 7:45 p. m.; Thursday, Aug. 18.—Elks vs. Elitiste, 7:45 p. m.

All that remained of the Santa Ana City league softball season today was the playoff series, starting in the Bowl Monday night, between the Elks and Elitiste teams, respective champions of the first and second halves.

The other clubs counted "ten" over the 1938 schedule last night—but not without extra fanfare. Fans were treated to the first triple play of the year in the Montgomery Ward-Alliance Mutual Life curtain-raiser, won by Alliance Mutual, 5-4. The Elks defeated Elitiste company, 8-5, in their "pre-view" attraction. A six-run rally in sixth overcame a 5-2 Elitiste lead and cinched victory for the Elks.

Heads-up play on the part of Erwin Youel, Montgomery Ward's second baseman, was responsible for the triple play. With the bases full and none out in the fourth inning, Ralph Winkler popped up to Youel. It was an infield fly and Winkler was automatically out. Youel dropped the ball purposely and the baserunners did exactly what he had hoped. In safety of holding their base in safety, they became befuddled and started running.

Youel pegged home, retiring Jim Haynes, catcher. Louis Collins whipped the ball to Jackson at third base, trapping Halderman between second and third. Jackson and Hal Youel closed in on Halderman and tagged him out.

Manager Roscoe Dietrich started Alliance Mutual Life's rally in the fifth, when he singles infield, Dominguez, Gundersen, Levens, and Haynes followed with safe hits to wind up the ball game.

Leading 5-2 as a result of a four-run rally in the fourth inning Elitiste company's schoolboy gunner, Soren Sorenson, blew, allowing five hits and three walks to Elks sluggers and the ball game changed hands. Harnois, Heinisch, Gott and J. Webb hit safely. Walker, Styling and Cartwright walked. Bruce Harnois' second single of the inning completed the scoring.

Both clubs held in reserve their first string pitchers for the playoff series. Fred Cartwright was on the rubber for the Elks.

Cochrane 'Victim Of Baseball'

Mickey Cochrane, left, drops into the Briggs Stadium clubhouse to pack his duffel and say goodbye to his successor, Del Baker, right, and the Detroit Tigers.

By HARRY GRAYSON
(Sports Editor, NEA Service)

Baseball is big business. If no longer is a game. If any additional proof of that were needed, it was furnished by the summary dismissal of Gordon Stanley Cochrane as manager of the Detroit Tigers.

Highly commercialized as the game is today, an owner has a perfect right to hire and fire whom he pleases, but under the circumstances the abrupt way in which Mickey Cochrane was turned out was outrageous.

Walter O. Briggs, Sr., the automobile body builder, who came into the sole proprietorship of the Detroit club upon the death of Frank J. Nevin, called Cochrane a "victim of baseball." Actually Mickey Cochrane was a victim of an unappreciative and non-understanding magnate.

The Detroit baseball club, itself and Frank Nevin practically were broke when Harry G. Salsinger, the sports editor, advised Nevin to purchase Cochrane from the Philadelphia Athletics and make him manager in 1934. Briggs loaned Nevin the $100,000 which Connie Mack collected for the fighting Irishman, considered by many to have been the greatest catcher of them all.

The deal turned out to be one of the best in history. Cochrane took a club which was rated rather mediocre . . . a club that hadn't been in the first division in a half dozen years . . . a club suffering from a pronounced defeatist complex, and won Detroit's first pennant in 25 years. The Tigers lost a world series that went the full seven games to the St. Louis Cardinals.

Battling Bengals, as Cochrane called them and as they became under his guidance, repeated their American league triumph in 1935, and went on to beat the Chicago Cubs for the 35-year-old club's first world championship.

NEARLY GIVES LIFE

Tigers finished second to a superior collection of New York Yankees in 1936, largely because a nervous ailment forced Catcher Cochrane to the sidelines.

They finished second to the same highly-regarded organization last year, after Cochrane all but gave away his life for his club. His head was badly fractured when struck by a pitch thrown by "Bump" Hadley in May.

The only concrete reason given for the removal of Cochrane was that he couldn't inspire players from the bench as he did behind the bat and in the batting order.

The truth is that what the club missed more than anything else, is a season of successive disappointments, was a catcher who could catch anything like Cochrane.

McGill Beaten But Gives Tony Trouble

Tony Morrell, tough little Italian, handed it back and chased Jake to the ringside seats, gaining time to untangle himself from his robe and towel, and then the boys got down to the serious business of giving the fans the wildest brawl they have witnessed in months.

Murdoch finally secured a good imitation of Hans Steinke's old "boomerang" and flipped the Alaskan over and over like a flapjack to take the first fall in 17:05.

Jake came out for the second round, giving the referee "clean" and actually broke from a couple of holds "clean" but went berserk again in a couple of minutes and started a row with the referee. Jake picked up his robe and towel and started to "walk out" but Murdoch, who hadn't had enough fun, grabbed the Alaskan's robe and strangled the aurora borealis out of Jake who broke loose and went into an Eskimo war dance on the Texan's arm and shoulders (called the Alaskan stomps) to take the second fall in 10:22.

The third fall was a scream, Jake even tried to pull the club's plumbing out by the roots to use on Murdoch. When the time limit bell rang they were playfully trying to strangle each other.

Wayne Stupbough, wrestling instructor from Case college and Bolo Pilar put on one of the finest exhibitions of real wrestling ever seen here. The referee raised Pilar's hand after the time limit bell had sounded for reasons known only to himself.

Bill (Spider Legs) Hall beat Jimmie Hutchinson in the opener.

Tonight's Games (Final)
Anaheim at Santa Ana; Orange at San Bernardino; Brea at Huntington Beach; Irvine at Whittier.

Whether Santa Ana meets Anaheim or San Bernardino in the National League's Shaughnessy playoffs will be decided at the Municipal Bowl tonight when the Stars take on Anaheim.

At the situation now stands, Anaheim, in second place, would open against Santa Ana at Whittier field Sunday night, and Huntington Beach, first, would play third-place San Bernardino. But if Santa Ana beats Anaheim tonight (and San Bernardino defeats Orange) there would be a tie for second place between Anaheim and San Bernardino.

Foreseeing such a possibility, President Jimmie Heffron and the managers flip a coin; San Bernardino won the toss. So in the event of a tie, the Ponies will be considered the No. 2 club and will draw Santa Ana instead of Huntington Beach. Naturally, this would be more to San Bernardino's liking since nobody relishes a first round brush with Huntington Beach.

Anaheim's chance of being the No. 2 club soared today with an announcement that Earl Morrill would not be here to pitch for Santa Ana, and Manager "Doc" Smith's decision to save Stan Jacobsmeyer for the series opener Sunday.

Bill Hunter, the demon of the dugouts, will hurl for the Stars. Although Hunter has been on the roll all season this will be his first starting assignment. Hunter has been a fairly consistent winner in the Long Beach City league. The veteran Morrill was supposed to toil against Anaheim but telephoned Manager Smith that he was tied up with his own play-offs in Los Angeles; he is Richfield Oil's first string gunner since the petroleum team released Venn Botts.

The Stars will line up with Richardson, Jr.; Wiener, Jr.; Short, Jr.; J. Koral, 2b; B. Koral, c; Smith, ss; Mott, 1b; Young, 3b, and Hunter in the box. Anaheim will have either Bob Hosack or Neja at second base; Seacord, cf; Bell, Jr.; Comstock, ss; Gunther, rf; Wallin, c; Wiseman, 1b; Sauer, 3b, and Heman pitching. Anaheim has taken three straight from the Stars this season.

With both Pitcher Jacobsmeyer and Infielder Koral due to the University of California campus next Friday, Manager Smith thought succeeded in changing Santa Ana's play-off dates next week from Wednesday and Friday to Thursday. "Jake" and Joe will return here after registering and complete the series.

'Maybe She's Done' Says Grove Of Arm

BOSTON.—(UP)—Robert Moses (Lefty) Grove, 37-year-old Boston Red Sox pitcher, returned home today for further examination of his pitching arm which "went dead" for the second time in a month in a game against Philadelphia.

Grove appeared almost resigned to the fact that he was through as a hurler. He retired to the dressing room after pitching three innings yesterday and in contrast to other occasions when he had a sore arm or was hurt, he did not talk or storm about the lockers.

"Maybe she's all done," he told newspapermen. "There's just so many pitches in an arm, you know, and this makes my 19th year of throwing 'em."

SPORTS-MAN-ABOUT-TOWN

The weaker sex wasn't so weak at the box office Wednesday night. While the Stars and Long Beach Shell were playing before a $61 house (in the season's most attractive exhibition here) the Lionettes were packing 'em in to the tune of nearly $350 at Orange. Attendance also has dwindled at men's games in Los Angeles: only time they draw is when they have a girls' contest to which the double bill flavor. Promoters can't account for the amazing popularity of girls' softball any more than they can wrestling, and no longer try. By no stretch of the imagination do the girls play as well as men, but they are easier to look at and their uniforms are more attractive . . . or something.

Bill Muma, the Riverside high school coach, is vacationing on Santa Island. He owns a unique hook rug. It was made from a single jersey from Corona and almost every high school in the Citrus Belt league . . . and probably including Santa Ana . . .

Orange county's bookmakers are dealer than "Lefty" Grove's arm. You can't lay a bet here to save your life. A hot tip was making the rounds yesterday on Our Mortgage at Del Mar but the lads had to dis-patch it to the track in a flying machine . . . and then loss ran out. . . .

Tex Oliver hurt his back socking a golf ball . . . or a divot . . . at a country club and had to have medical attention. Nothing serious. . . .

Ol' Poppus Warner will have a football team with the zoological touch at Temple. Among his candidates are Morris Katz, Dick Fox, Fred Lyons, Bill Baer, Ed Muhl, Cliff Beaver and George Bull. . . . Well, Santa Ana has a Baker, a Cook and a Miller in the bakery business. . . . Or is this a Sports column?

"Stormy" Gordon goes for the C. S. Howard buses because Howard is Pacific Coast distributor of Buick. That'll just cost you a coke. Gordon. . . . The Automotive softball league likely will swell to eight members next season. The boys wind up their season either to-night or Monday, depending on the

PLAYGROUND CLUBS IN COUNTY TOURNEY

The second annual Anaheim Chamber of Commerce boys' softball tournament will get under way tomorrow at 8:30 p. m. It was announced today by Dick Glover, tournament manager. A championship flight and a consolation flight will be played. The tournament will last all day, with 16 clubs competing.

Finals will be held at the Anaheim ball park, starting with the consolation at 7:15 p. m. Two Santa Ana teams—Al's Lock and Key Shop and Vander-mast—are entered. The Famous Department Store Juniors of Santa Ana, who are undefeated, will clash with the Anaheim Wisner Sport-ing Goods store at 1:15 p. m. to decide the junior championship of Orange county. A barbecue luncheon will be served all boys entered in the tournament.

First round pairings:
Al's Lock and Key Shop (Santa Ana) vs. Buena Park; Placencia vs. Orange Police Department; Garden Grove vs. Brea Wildcats; El Modena vs. Olive; Magnolia vs. Vander-mast; Anaheim Beverage vs. Laguna Beach; Orange Bess vs. La Habra; Fullerton vs. Coville; Magnolia vs. Vander-mast (Santa Ana).

JACOBS PLANS 4 FIGHTS FOR BOMBER IN '39

NEW YORK.—(UP)—The men who control the heavyweight boxing championship decided today that "Mister Wisniewski" was the best man in the division and announced that Joe Louis would not defend his title again this year.

It was a matter of income tax with Louis, his managers and Promoter Mike Jacobs. More money in the Louis till, they said, would place him in a higher income tax bracket and therefore remove any chance of another profitable fight in 1938.

After a conference in Jacobs' office, however, 1939 program for the champion was made public—one which will place the title on the line four times between next Jan. 1 and Sept. 30 "if he can find anybody to fight."

Jacobs, who has a promotional monopoly on Louis' services, wants to stage three title bouts in New York and one in California next year. He has selected as probable dates for the New York fights, January, June and September. April was chosen for the California appearance of the Brown Bomber.

Jacobs virtually completed negotiations for a heavyweight tussle in the Garden this fall between Gunnar Burdick, of Finland, and Tommy Farr, of England. He also reopened negotiations for a light-heavyweight title fight between Champion John Henry Lewis and Tiger Jack Fox in September.

Grant Rings Out To End Motor Playoffs

Writing fans on Santa Ana's Automotive league season for 1938 may be easier said than done but at any rate Grant Ring Sales will be out tonight to make it two straight over the W. R. Gordon Buicks and thus end the best two out of three-game playoff series.

The Ringmen defeated the Gordon's 5-3, Monday night. Tonight's game will again be played at San-tiago park. If a third game is necessary it will be played next Monday.

DIMAGGIO SPURS YANKEE DRIVE

FISHERMEN OF SOUTHLAND ARE SEEKING TROUT

Hundreds of Southland anglers will leave this week for lakes and streams of the high Sierra and nearby fishing areas in anticipation of landing their limit of trout.

The best bets for trout in near-by waters are confined to Big Bear, Arrowhead, Jenks and Jackson lakes.

The lakes and reservoirs of San Diego county are furnishing anglers with plenty of bass, crappie and bluegill.

Jackson Lake, located near Wrightwood and Big Pine, is proving to be a mecca for anglers. The lake has been heavily stocked and is producing catches of twelve to sixteen-inch trout.

Head waters of the San Gabriel river, reached from Big Pine by a hard twenty-eight mile drive, is delivering some fine catches of trout.

A last minute survey of the trout waters of the high Sierra region disclose that anglers are enjoying good fishing in all lower waters. Convict Lake, Owens River, near the gorge, Hot Creek, McGee Creek, Rock Creek, Lake Mary, Lake George, Twin Lakes, Mammoth Lakes, Lake Mamie and Mammoth Creek are producing excellent results.

Lundy Lake is returning heavy catches to anglers. Streams and lakes in the Bridgeport area are reported to be returning fairly good catches, especially in Twin Lakes and its tributaries.

Penalty For Jockey Hardy Considered

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y.—(UP)—Racing stewards today considered a penalty for Jockey Lee Hardy who was disqualified after a winning ride yesterday in the Sanford Stake—the "jinx" race that cost the life of Thimblebob, leading two-year-old.

Thimblebob, ridden by Eddie Arcaro, winning jockey in the 1938 Kentucky Derby, was crowded to the rail at the first turn of the six-furlong, $5500 feature, and broke his right foreleg just above the fetlock. The track veterinarian mercifully destroyed him.

Hardy was aboard Hugh Jackson's Ariel Toy, the horse Thimblebob was trying to pass on the inside. While it looked like Thimblebob was bumper into the rail, Arcaro absolved Hardy of blame. Hardy continued on and crossed the finish a length in the clear.

There was a gasp from the 10,000 in the stands as Arcaro pulled up sharply with Thimblebob, the 1-4 favorite by virtue of his win in the Arlington Futurity only two weeks ago.

The colt, owned by Mrs. Charles Shipman Payson, was going so fast it was fully a dozen strides before Arcaro stopped him. The undefeated two-year-old dropped to his knees at a moment, but arose and stood on three feet.

The disqualification of Hardy and the accident was a mystery. None of the other jockeys lodged a complaint against Hardy's ride, Arcaro saying that he thought there was room to pass on the inside and that he was not bothered by Ariel Toy. Although it was a bright sunny day, the track was ankle deep in mud from previous rains, and it is possible that Thimblebob stepped into a hole.

The Boys Are Just Rushing the Football Season

Jack Peacock of the Boston Red Sox stopped Earl Averill in midair with a perfect football block when the Cleveland outfielder tried to score from third on an outfield fly. A perfect peg from Ben Chapman resulted in the slugger's downfall after he had tripped. Tensely awaiting the decision in left background is Frankie Pytlak, Indian catcher. The action took place in the second inning of the first game of a double-header in Cleveland's Municipal Stadium. It was Averill Day.

Old Father Time Catches Up With 'Bitsy' Grant At Last

BY HENRY MCLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK — Draw the shawl closer about my thin shoulders, nurse, move my wheel chair out of the draft, and tuck the hot water bottle near my feet. For supper I'll just have some dry toast and weak tea.

I am old, nurse, and tired. Old and tired all of a sudden. I was aged by a telegraphic dispatch from Rye, N. Y., yesterday, where the Eastern grass court tennis championships are being played. Just four lines, but as I read them I could hear my joints creak, my arteries harden, and feel myself picking furtively at the covert.

Here was the dismal dispatch: "Forced to three sets by Frank Guernsey of Florida, Bryan (Bitsy) Grant, of Atlanta, collapsed in the final game from heat and fatigue. Revived after five minutes."

Placentia clinched second place in the Orange County Night Ball league with an 8-4 decision over San Juan Capistrano in a one-game play-off last night at Tustin, completing the regular schedule.

As a result, Tustin, in first place, opens Monday night against Capistrano (at Tustin) in a three-out-of-five game Shaughnessy series. Placentia, second, meets Yorba Linda, fourth, at Placentia the same night. The same clubs meet again Thursday, reversing places.

Water polo series. National A. A. U. announces that the water polo teams of the New York and Illinois clubs will go to Bermuda for a series to decide the Mid-Ocean championship.

CHICAGO CUBS PLAY 3 GAMES AT PITTSBURGH

BY STEVE SNIDER
CHICAGO—They booed Joe Dimaggio when he lost his holdout siege against the New York Yankees and big Joe just took it and smiled.

"It's nothin' a few home runs won't cure," Joe said then. He can say it again now. The Yanks got five hits yesterday—five hits and nine runs. Thanks to Dimaggio's 21st homer of the season with two men on base, the world champions whipped Washington 9 to 6 and increased their American league lead to 61-2 games as Cleveland dropped a doubleheader to the St. Louis Browns.

It took Dimaggio a long time to live down his fantastic holdout demands. It took him almost as long to regain the pace that made him last year's home run king of the majors. But as Joe comes back, so do the Yankees and their lead looks bigger every day to the staggering Indians.

Washington belted "Lefty" Gomez freely enough, 13 hits in seven innings, but "Lefty" kept them scattered, earning his 11th victory of the year.

"Buck" Newsom of the Browns, who still years to do an "iron man" stunt of pitching both games of a doubleheader, won the first one from Cleveland, 8 to 7, and Les Tietje won the second, 8 to 2. Cleveland's hitting fell off. The Indians picked up only 11 hits in two games.

"Lefty" Grove's arm went "dead as a board" after two innings of the Red Sox's game with Philadelphia and this time it may be for good. "Lefty," now 38, didn't like the gnawing pain in his left forearm and retired one run behind. It cost him his fantastic defeat in 18 games, for three other pitchers tried to stop the Athletics and couldn't. The score was 5 to 3.

Monte Stratton, the quiet White Sox beanpole, gave Detroit its second straight defeat on four-hit pitching, 13 to 1.

In the National league, the Chicago Cubs opened a three-day stand today at Pittsburgh which may be their last grab at the pennant. The Pirates, like the Yankees, hold a 61-2 game lead.

The Cubs fumbled a chance in the 14th inning to move into a second place tie with New York when big Ernie (Shnoz) Lombardi, blasted a home run clear out of the Cincinnati ball park, defeating the Cubs, 8 to 7.

IT'S EASY TO WIN $500.00 whether you're a baseball fan or not

Any man, woman, or youngster has a good chance to win one of 1,004 weekly cash prizes! You don't have to be a baseball expert—or even a fan!

Vote now! Rush those last-minute ballots for Shortstop. Mailing deadline is midnight tomorrow. Next week, help your favorite Left Fielder make the Team!

Anyone can win up to $500.00 any week in Kellogg's All-American Baseball Poll! Here's how easy it is. Just pick a player for the position of the week, and tell in 30 words or less why you like him. A winning statement can be as simple and natural as this: "I like him because even though he plays on a team that's an 'in-and-out', he's in there every day, playing championship ball!" But you don't have to give a technical baseball reason for your preference. You can like a player because he's handsome—or good-natured. And you can win any prize, any week, whether the player you choose gets the most votes or not.

Till midnight tomorrow you still have a chance to vote for Shortstop. Be sure to mail your vote today! And next week, vote for Left Fielder!

HOW TO VOTE:
1. Write on plain paper or on the official entry ballot obtainable from your grocer (It contains full rules and information).
2. Name your favorite Shortstop or Left Fielder, and give name of his team (It may be any professional player in any league today).
3. Complete in 30 additional words or less this statement: "I like him because . . ."
4. Give your name and address.
5. Give your grocer's name and address.
6. Attach two tops from packages of Kellogg's Corn Flakes and mail to Kellogg All-American Committee, Howard-Clark Bldg., Chicago, Ill.
7. Your vote for Shortstop must be postmarked not later than midnight, Saturday, August 13. For Left Fielder not later than midnight, Saturday, August 20.

RIVERSIDE GETS STATE OFFICE

Newest branch office of the state board of equalization was opened for business in the Citizens National Bank building, Riverside, the first of the month.

The Riverside Chamber of Commerce had addressed a letter to William G. Bonelli, board member from this district, asserting the need for a branch office in Riverside.

Following a survey of conditions by the board member authority for the new office was obtained and space for headquarters leased.

Troxel in Charge

Clayton C. Troxel, former postmaster at Riverside and employed for the past five years, is in charge of the tax division under W. C. Shay, administrator for the Riverside-San Bernardino-Orange district.

Tom Collins, chief liquor control officer, named Ted Wallace to have charge of liquor law enforcement.

Headquarters of the fourth district at Los Angeles has received many letters from Riverside county businessmen expressing their appreciation to Bonelli for his efforts in establishing the new office.

Former Convict To Tell Life Story

The life story of Evangelist C. Bill Dunn, reformed gangster and convict, will be told at the revival services at the Foursquare Gospel church, Fairview and Sycamore streets, at 7:30 p. m. today. The services are sponsored by the Rev. W. C. Farham and the Rev. Alice Farham, pastors of the church, each evening.

The public is invited to attend.

ENTERS CAMPAIGN

Men and women ranchers, business men, ministers and others of the La Habra district met last night at La Habra city hall to organize a Logan Jackson-for-sheriff club, latest unit of the county organization.

E. E. Proud acted as temporary chairman at the meeting while Frantz, rancher and former grand jurymen, was chosen and given the added position of campaign manager for the district.

MOTORCYCLE RACE TRACK GETS READY FOR THRILLS SUNDAY

Final conditioning touches were given today to Orange county's fast new motorcycle race track on the Coast Highway west of Newport Beach as preparations for the thrilling Four-Star Tourist Trophy races to be staged at 1 p. m. Sunday under sponsorship of Orange County Motorcycle Club.

The track, located one mile west of the Archers overhead, was first used at the Three-Star races held on May 1. Since that time the track has been lengthened to a five-eighths mile course, and improved to the extent that it now offers speed fans the fastest, most thrilling course in Southern California.

Has Long Hill

The track has a long hill, several right and left turns. It drops down to a gully about 15 feet deep, where it runs for about 50 feet. Sand in some spots adds to the hazards, and the long straightaway provides for roaring finishes. Site for the track was donated by Joe Betschart, of the Talbert Meat company.

The Four-Star race is sanctioned by the American Motorcycle Association, a national association of which the Orange county club is a member. Fifty crack riders are expected to compete for the $225 which will be offered in prizes. Several of the speed kings, some national title holders will go east to compete in national events following this Orange county event.

Plan Eight Races

Eight instead of the customary six races will be staged on August 14. These will include four 10-lap races, two for 45 cubic inch motors and two for 80 cubic inch motors. One for each size motor, will precede the two 25-lap main events.

Officers of the Orange County Motorcycle club, sponsor of the event, are: Bob White, Santa Ana, president; Bud Hare, Westminster, secretary-treasurer; Bob Cone, Santa Ana, road captain; and Shorty Ball, Santa Ana, club A. M. A. referee.

L. A. Man to Face La Habra Court

Charged with non-support of minor child, Jacob Capeluto, Los Angeles, was brought from Los Angeles central jail yesterday by Deputy Sheriff James Musick for prosecution in La Habra, Justice A. C. Easley of La Habra arraigned Capeluto and released him on his own recognizance pending preliminary hearing.

Woman Hangs Self In City Jail

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 12.—(UP)—Mrs. Vera M. Armbrust, 30, San Diego, hanged herself in the city jail today, police reported.

Her body was discovered hanging from a jail cell door, her belt around her neck.

Mrs. Armbrust, wife of a naval lieutenant, was arrested last night on drunk charges with her brother, Val Madsen, 32.

Madsen could give no reason for his sister's suicide other than she had been despondent for some time.

The candidates included Willis H. Warner, Terry Stephenson, Franklin G. West, Elmer R. Guy, Earle Abbey, E. B. Muz, Nat H. Neff, W. F. Menton, James L. Allen, Jesse L. Elliott, J. B. Tucker.

CONTRA COSTA FIND THROWS NEW LIGHT ON YOKUTS TRIBE

BERKELEY, Aug. 12.—Contra Costa County, which is achieving prominence as the site of outstanding fossil beds, has produced another strange specimen of ancient days and ancient ways.

The skeleton of a young bear hung with strings of cut olive shells from the ocean strand, has been unearthed near Knightsen by Robert F. Heizer, graduate student in anthropology of the University of California; T. Franklin Fenenga of the Sacramento Junior College, and a number of their associates. It is the first find of its kind ever recorded.

Reverence For Bears

It was presumed that the bear was buried as a ceremonial by some of the members of the old Yokuts Indian tribe, which once inhabited the region. It is known that this tribe, in common with a number of other Indian peoples on the continent, had a high reverence for bears, and when one was found dead it was buried with the peculiar honors that the Indians had picked for this type of divinity.

The bear is not believed to carry any great antiquity, and its chief interest, as far as the University anthropologists are concerned, lies in the new light that it throws on the Yokuts culture. The skeleton with its shell trappings still intact, has been brought to the Museum of Anthropology on the campus here.

Municipal Judge Fined for Contempt

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 12.—(UP)—Municipal Judge Frank W. Dunn was under a court citation to pay a $100 fine for contempt of court today on the order of Superior Judge Donald Geary, of Sonoma county, sitting here from Santa Rosa.

The action was the outgrowth of Judge Dunn's marital difficulties over failure to pay $200 temporary alimony to his wife, Ethel, who is suing for divorce.

Judge Dunn testified that according to his own interpretation of an alimony agreement rendered last April he had "complied fully" with the terms of the agreement through payment of cash and through allowing Mrs. Dunn to receive additional money from the rent of his house.

Jimmie Fidler in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 12.—Idol Chatter: Actors who build too many castles in the air usually wind up in the hole. Wonder how old Joe E. Brown will be before he quits playing college half-backs? History repeats itself: Mary Jane Karns, 16, making her debut in the same San Diego theatre where her father, Roscoe Karns first appeared 20 years ago. If that favorite off-color story has escaped your memory, drop a note to Hugh Herbert—he knows them all.

No love lost: Ann Sothern and Gene Raymond. News to me: that Donald Novis was a collegiate boxing champ—he's still handy with his dukes. Tyrone Power complains that he could have seen more of Mexico if the Mexicans had been content to see less of him. It won't stop them, but I wonder if the producers of "Titanic" remember that the ship of that name sank during its world premiere.

Hollywood's newest reducing fad: rowing a rubber boat on the private swimming pool. Hollywood dities: Billy Bevan—he has played cockneys for twenty-five years but has never been in England. Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy aren't the first "Sweethearts" who acted that way. Bette Davis must really be worried about her laryngitis—she's out her smoking from two packs to five cigarettes a day. One nice thing about this town: You don't have to be a reckless driver to run some one down.

Browsing through an old magazine last night and ran across this sentimental little tid-bit: "Speaking of Clifford Odets, a delightful aura of romance still hovers over the playwright and his fascinating tumble-tressed bride, Luise Rainer. They were in New York recently and their first pilgrimage was to Loew's Sheridan in Greenwich Village. It was there one night that he saw "Es-caped" and fell in love with its heroine. When he went to Hollywood, he made it an initial point to meet Luise in person—and you know the rest. May their honeymoon never wane!" Oh, well—times do change.

Visiting with those two distinguished thespians, Spanky McFarland and "Alfalfa," today, when a cameraman interrupted, wishing to make publicity stills. After groping for a "gag" idea, he suggested that they might be fighting.

'How Can He Work?'—And Why?

Everyone but the man on the steel frame stopped work on the new assembly hall eight months ago when these Sacramento co-eds strolled by and this picture was snapped. (Can you blame them?) But since then the men have tended to business and the building will be completed in August. Oh, yes, don't forget the State Fair and Exposition is to be held in Sacramento September 2 thru 11—yes, the girls will be there too. Left to right, Nola Swain and Elsie Wooden.

WORK ON STATE FAIR EDIFICES SPEEDED FOR SEPT. 2 OPENING

"Rush"

That is the order at the California State Fair and Exposition grounds where more than 750 workmen are working feverishly to complete four new buildings and numerous permanent improvements in time for the 1938 show which will be held in Sacramento September 2 through 11.

Many Accomplishments In the short time of eight months, a new administration building costing $100,000; an addition to the grandstand costing $165,000; and assembly hall costing $200,000 and a new dairy products building costing $50,000 are being completed.

In addition, numerous shade trees have been planted about the grounds, new parking areas have been set aside and the race track has been reconditioned at a cost of $5000, making it one of the fastest in California.

5 TO 9 ESCAPE IN 4-CAR CRASH

In a spectacular four-car accident directly in front of the California highway patrol offices on 101 highway at the Santa Ana-Orange city limits yesterday at 3 p. m. five persons escaped injury. While three others suffered slight bruises and a nine-months-old girl was slightly cut on one leg.

According to assertions of witnesses, Harvey A. Tucker, 65, San Diego, apparently was attempting to make a left-turn into the highway patrol parking yard while traveling toward Santa Ana just before the collisions. A car driven by Frank C. Wiek, 27, Route 1, Anaheim, traveling north on 101, collided with the left side of the Tucker car, then went out of control.

Out of Control The Wiek car collided head-on with an automobile driven toward Santa Ana by Thelma R. Morton, 36, Corona, according to the investigation, and the Morton car, going out of control, then side-swiped a car driven by Orville Hefty, 25, 1094 Glenyre, Laguna Beach, traveling north on 101.

The injured included nine-months-old Connie Robinson; Bes-sie Price, 48, and Dorothy Robinson, 28, all of Route 1, Corona, and Mono Lee Morton, 11, Corona. The baby was given first aid. The injured were riding in the Morton car.

Safety Group Leader Gets First Hand Information

Working under the instruction of the traffic safety commission of Santa Ana V. L. Motry, head of the enforcement division of the commission, spent two and one-half hours in a police "prowl" car recently to see for himself and for the commission the nocturnal activity of the police department.

During the course of time in the car with Officers Chet Gross and Ernest Zimmerman, Motry observed more than 20 cars stopped, the chief offenders being drivers with faulty lights. Others halted included trucks operating with loose license plates and poor tires. Worst offender was a driver booked under a reckless driving charge.

Prepare for Campaign Motry was with the officers from 9:30 p. m. to midnight. The move on the part of the commission was a preparation for widespread activity in traffic safety in the city during the fall.

Commissioners Dr. Roy S. Horton and Frank A. Henderson, heads of the education and engineering divisions of the commission, are planning a full program of events to bring "safety driving" to the minds of the motoring public prior to and following the opening of school.

Highly Honored

Herbert L. Hill, pictured above, was singularly honored last night when he was unanimously elected deputy district governor of the 20-30 club at a meeting held in Long Beach.

S. A. YOUTH GETS AREA CLUB OFFICE

High honor was accorded Herbert L. Hill, manager and partner of the Hales Feed store here, when he was unanimously elected deputy district governor of the 20-30 club at a meeting held in the New Masonic temple in Long Beach last night. He succeeds Timm Baker.

Hill was one of the delegates to last night's meeting at which representatives from Long Beach, Whittier, Downey, Fullerton, Anaheim, Orange, Newport Harbor and Santa Ana were present. James A. Walker was the other Santa Ana delegate.

Election to the new post added to the 20-30 honors Hill has received in the past few years. He is a past-president of the Whittier club from which he transferred to the local group a few years ago. Hill will serve for one convention year. He will be sworn into office and begin serving his term immediately following the national convention which is scheduled for Paso, Texas, August 16, 17, 18 and 19. John Knox will represent the local club at the convocation.

The advancement brings to this community another important officer in 20-30. The new district governor, V. G. Wolfe, is a member of the Orange club. Retiring national president is Ralph Layton, resident of Fullerton.

In his new capacity, Hill will be governor over sub-district number four which is comprised of clubs represented at last night's gathering.

Besides being deputy governor, Hill will continue to act as a national committeeman in the club. He will serve under the retiring president, Layton.

NELLIE, "STUFFED TO DEATH," REALLY KILLED BY KINDNESS

LONG BEACH, Cal., Aug. 12.—(UP)—Well-meaning friends have done to death 23-year old Nellie, and thereby nearly wrecked Long Beach's Golden Jubilee Celebration.

Nellie, an ancient grey mare, was saved from the ignominious end when she was rescued from a dog-food factory last week to draw a creaky horse-car between Wilmington and Long Beach as a feature of the 50-years-ago festivities.

City Ready to Act During her six-day reprieve, Nellie became the pet of all the jubilee actors, who overloved her cavernous tummy with hay, oats, carrots and sugar.

So well did she perform that Mayor Thomas M. Eaton prepared a petition to the city council to pension the old grey mare on grazing land owned by the city. Action was to have been taken last night. But death intervened. Nellie, her ribs no longer visible, suffered an attack of acute indigestion and died late yesterday, victim of her friends' generosity.

Work On Garbage Lands Man In Jail

Because he gathered garbage in violation of a city ordinance, Antonio Trujillo, 22, Route 3, Santa Ana, must appear before City Judge J. G. Mitchell next Thursday at 10 a. m. for trial. Trujillo was arrested at Fourth and Van Ness by Officers F. L. Grouard and Roy Hartley, furnishing $25 bail for his temporary release.

He has ever been a diligent leader in his field.

7-POINT DRIVE SPURS IDEALS

Orange county's delegation to the Women's Christian Temperance Union convention this week in San Francisco was home today as the 64th annual convocation concluded there yesterday with the passage of resolutions pledging a relentless and endless war on traffic in liquor and narcotics.

Pending the return of national prohibition, which the W. C. T. U. believes is assured, an intensive educational campaign will be carried on to teach the young the dangers of imbibing.

Policies Outlined Other resolutions were adopted outlining the organization's policies on social diseases, gambling, marriage and divorce laws.

The union voted: 1. For federal grants to states for tax-supported schools. 2. For clarification of the National Defense Act so that the law cannot be interpreted to mean that military and naval training is compulsory in any except military and naval schools.

Against Gambling 3. Against the legalizing of gambling in any form.

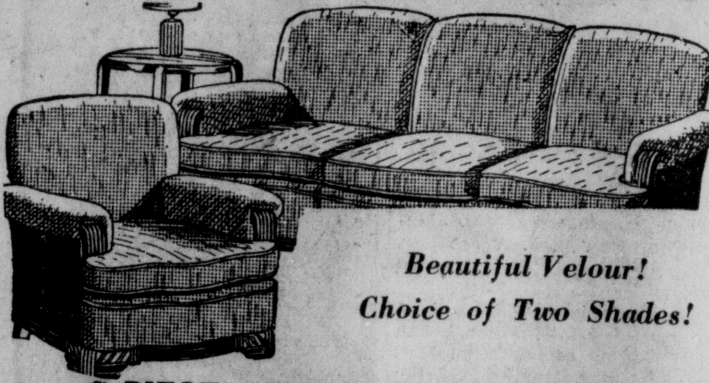

4. For ratification of the world court protocols. 5. For limitation of military activities to the defense of the soul.

6. Ratification of the child labor amendment. 7. For uniform marriage and divorce laws.

L. A. Police Blush As Checks Bounce

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 12.—(UP)—The recent police show at the coliseum drew thousands of people and everyone thought it was just swell—everyone except the police officers who, with crimson cheeks, admitted today that "rubber checks" bought hundreds of tickets.

Most of the checks, it was learned, were written for generous amounts, in cases where purchasers had taken whole blocks of seats for the big show. They came back from banks marked: "Not sufficient funds," "No account here," and other familiar bank markings that make the most promising check worthless.

Police officials were in a quandary as to the delicate approach to adopt if they hope to clear up the great mystery of the rubber checks.

"Brotherhood Of Man" Plea Sounded

A plea for better understanding in the "brotherhood of man" was made at the regular meeting of the Santa Ana Lions club today by Thomas P. Douglas, county welfare director, speaking on the subject of "We Internationals."

"Better knowledge of our neighbors will teach us that the kingdoms of the world are but the Kingdoms of the Master Man," Douglas said.

Charles Swanner was program chairman and introduced the speaker. In the entertainment program, Lyle Anderson introduced Walter Wanger who performed juggler feats.

Pictures Of Alaska Screened For Altrusa Members

Motion pictures which Julia Ann Hyde took during her recent tour of Alaska were screened for her fellow members of Altrusa club last night as a pleasant sequel to a dinner event at which Miss Mary W. Howard presided.

The hostess and her sister, Miss Harriet Howard, received in the C. F. Smith home, 1315 Heliotrop Drive, where the two sisters are residing while the Smiths are on vacation. Aiding in extending the hospitality of the home was Miss Constance Howard of Redondo Beach, who is here for a visit with her aunt.

A flat arrangement of delphinium and petunias formed a centerpiece at a long table in the patio, where guests assembled at 7 o'clock for dinner. Potted plants and trailing vines added to the attractive background.

Following a short business meeting, the president, Miss Irene McPaul turned the program over to Mrs. Hyde. In color, the scenes of Alaska were unusually vivid and beautiful, depicting for the group many of the northern points which Mrs. Hyde and her party visited this summer.

Stork-centered ice cream rounds were served with pink and white cakes. Fortunate in scoring high in bridge, Mrs. Francis Horton was rewarded with a bottle of cologne, while Mrs. Ernest Spencer's second high score brought her a gift of scented soaps. Two Recent Brides Paid Enjoyable Party Honors

Two charming blonde brides, Mrs. Weston Sprague (Marjorie Lindsay) and Mrs. W. Lockwood Miller (June Arnold) yesterday discovered that their importance in the social scheme did not cease when the strains of Mendelssohn faded on the air. For again both came into prominence when they shared guest honors at a tea of much charm, given by Mrs. Theo. A. Winbiger, 207 East Ninth street.

Few homes in the city have provided in abundance, and a long table, spread with extra lace over pale green and centered with a white bowl of zinnias, was laden with ribbon sandwiches, cookies, salted nuts, and a variety of cakes. Mrs. Sharpless and Mrs. George Munro poured tea and coffee for the early afternoon hours, later yielding their places behind the big silver urns, to Mrs. Emmett Elliott and Mrs. Visel.

Mrs. Miller, who returned last night to her home in Hollywood, was accompanied down for the tea, by her husband's grandmother, Mrs. R. Lockwood of Winnipeg, Canada, who is making an extended visit in the Southland. Friends who had met her at the time of the wedding or its previous announcement party, were happy to renew acquaintance with her.

Camp And Auxiliary Participate In Various Affairs

Activities in which members of Calumet camp and auxiliary U. S. W. V. have taken part this month have proved of special interest, with the latest affair given Wednesday in the Garden Grove home of Mrs. Cora Graham.

The occasion was an all day meeting of the Sewing Circle, with more than 40 members of the camp and auxiliary assembling for noon-day covered-dish luncheon. Tables were set up on the porch and in the yard as well.

On the committee in charge were Mrs. Graham and Mesdames Rena Springer, Anna Patmor, Rena Wheeler and Maude Brown. Other members present were Mesdames Della Cobb, Ethel Lindley, Lavina Woods, Matilda Moesser, Estelle Dresser, Mary Cooper, Bess Moberly, Naomi McDonald, Edna Hanna, Marie Lindquist, Gertrude Rowe, Catherine Reagan, Dena Iobell, Ruth Hess, Myrtle Brown, Bertha Heimer, Cora Frowess, Mary Mann, Bertha Dixon and Lulla Randel.

Comrades in attendance were Charles Johnson, James Iobell, H. Moberly, Charles Lindquist, William Hanna, Charles Woods, Will Brown, Al Dresser, James Randel, Charles Dixon, Warren Cook. Many members of the camp and auxiliary took part in a social meeting Tuesday evening in the Knights of Columbus hall, where games were played and refreshments were served.

At the latest regular meeting of the two U. S. W. V. groups, the 18th anniversary of camp and auxiliary was celebrated. Each past president and past commander told of events highlighting his term of office. Birthday cake, ice cream and coffee were served.

Although little Miss Marlene Rae Berger was five years old August 4, it was just yesterday that she assembled a little group of playmates for a party in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Berger on Lacy street.

Most enjoyable of the games played was a jumping bean contest which yielded prizes for all. Beans provided for this merry interval had been brought from Old Mexico by Mr. Berger, who is connected with Radio Station XEBB at Rosarito Beach.

Pink candies gleamed on a white cake served with ice cream and root beer. Each candy basket favor included a tiny figure representing one of the seven dwarfs.

Invited to the event were Joan Harvey, Phyllis Ann Barnes, Juliette Grotrud, Eleanor Hutchinson and Frankie Barlow. They presented gifts to Marlene Rae.

Guest And Hostess Honors Are Divided

Half of the membership of a two-table bridge club entertained the other half Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Lloyd Folger's home on West First street was scene of the hospitality.

Receiving with Mrs. Folger were Mrs. Albert Dyckman, Mrs. Ray Wyckoff and Mrs. Kenneth Coulson. Their guests were Mrs. Harold Maylen, Mrs. P. J. Hersher, Mrs. Harvey Dimmitt and Mrs. Joe Steele.

Birthday Celebration Held During Torosa Lodge Meeting

Ten members of Torosa Rebekah lodge who have birthdays in July or August were accorded honors Wednesday night during the organization's meeting in the I.O.O.F. hall. Noble Grand Minnie Squier was in charge of the event, which was attended by 60 members.

Many baskets of flowers decked the hall. Several bouquets were taken to sick and shut-in members and friends at the close of the affair.

Representing a birthday cake was a large container in the lodge colors of pink and green. Birthday celebrants were asked to march by the large confection and leave their annual contributions. A small birthday cake was presented to each of the honored members.

Announcement was made that Torosa Past Noble Grands will hold a picnic supper August 18 at 6 p. m. in Santiago park. All Rebekahs, Odd Fellows and their families are invited to attend.

Torosa lodge members are invited to attend Sycamore Rebekah's golden anniversary celebration Saturday night in the hall.

At the close of Wednesday night's meeting was a play "Old Maid's Convention" put on by the Townsend club. Included among the 16 members of the cast were three Torosa lodge members, Audria May, Lottie Lyman and Eleanor Shaver. Miss Fey and Miss Lyman, who were among the birthday celebrants, were presented with bouquets of flowers.

 The $1 Woodrow Wilson postage stamp of the new regular series, which goes on first-day sale at the Washington, D. C. post office August 23, will have a black center with a lavender border, the post office department has announced.

 The new stamp will be arranged vertically and printed by the flatbed process in sheets of 100.

The $2 President Harding first day of sale will be Sept. 23 from July Stamp Sales
 Stamp sales through the Philatelic agency for the month of July, the department announced, amounted to $85,072.86.
 The post office department reported that first-day sales of the 6-cent John Quincy Adams stamp released July 23, totaled $774,322.
 at the Washington post office and $155,122 at the Philatelic agency.
 A total of 97,423 first-day covers were cancelled on that day.
 Japan Sales Down
 Reports have reached the post office department here that sales of special patriotic stamps in tended to encourage civil aviation in Japan have been "disappointing." Japan had anticipated a profit of $20,000 by the sale of the stamps, it was reported here, but that only $132,000 was netted.

First Day Sales
 Several weeks ago the writer spoke about the number of stamps issued of each President stamp.
 The series has now run to the 6c and the following is of interest.
 The stamps sold are in the first column, the covers cancelled in the second and the amount of money taken in by the post office department in the third column. It shows the decrease in sales as the denominations of the stamps increase in size:
 6-cent John Quincy Adams stamp
 $1,045,488 124,027 $1,045,488
 10-cent Tyler 1st day stamp
 13,300 257,140 128,539 $10,977.10
 20-cent Wilson 1st day stamp
 20,300 676,656 127,866 $12,321.13
 41-cent Wilson 1st day stamp
 20,300 676,656 127,866 $12,321.13

Interest in stamp collectors is an idea, which I understand has been advanced by Roy M. North, one of the department's most progressive executives. This plan is to invite the cooperation of other nations of the world by offering them space to set up branches of their own philatelic agencies, where stamp collectors may be permitted to purchase stamps of these respective foreign countries. It is a meritor-ous suggestion, which most of us would like to see adopted. It is just about a certainty that Uncle Sam will also come through with a special commemorative issue for this occasion.

Traveling Philatelic Agency
 The post office department has secured an automobile truck which will travel about suburban areas, according to present plans, visiting schools and carrying a stock of every stamp on current sale at the Washington Philatelic Agency.

 As an important part of its equipment, it will also feature an exhibition of stamps in frames for educational purposes. I understand that the truck has already been purchased and is now being outfitted, but probably will not start on its tour of the country until fall when the school year begins.
 This is an excellent project, sure to meet general approval.

Iowa Stamp
 The special postage stamp in the three-cent denomination in commemoration of the centennial anniversary of the Iowa Territory will be placed on first day sale at Des Moines, Iowa, on August 24, 1938.
 The new stamp will be 0.84 in 1.44 inches in dimensions, arranged horizontally. It will be printed in purple by the rotary process and issued in sheets of 50.

 The central subject will be a reproduction of the Old Capitol building. In a small panel with dark ground at the center of the upper edge of the stamp will be the name "Iowa" in white Roman, below which arranged in two curved lines will be the words
 "Territorial Centennial" and "1838-1938". In dark Gothic. In a straight line below the central subject will be the word "Postage."
 The Old Capitol Building is a Gothic. The denomination numeral "3" is white, enclosed in square-shaped panels with dark ground and curved upper edges in each lower corner, between which, in a narrow panel, with dark ground is the word "U. S."
 Postage—Three Cents." In white

Ornamental panels designing stalks of corn rise from the sides of the stamp and form arch-like effect for the central subject.

 sale, although they show change in perforation. The McFarland finally gave a grug-ing "okay." And with that squared off and knocked Alfalfa down—but not out—with a stomp punch. I don't know whether the still man got his pictures or not—I was too busy trying to stop the ensuing—and not pretended—fight to notice.

Hostesses At Luncheon Express Welcome To Mrs. Ivins

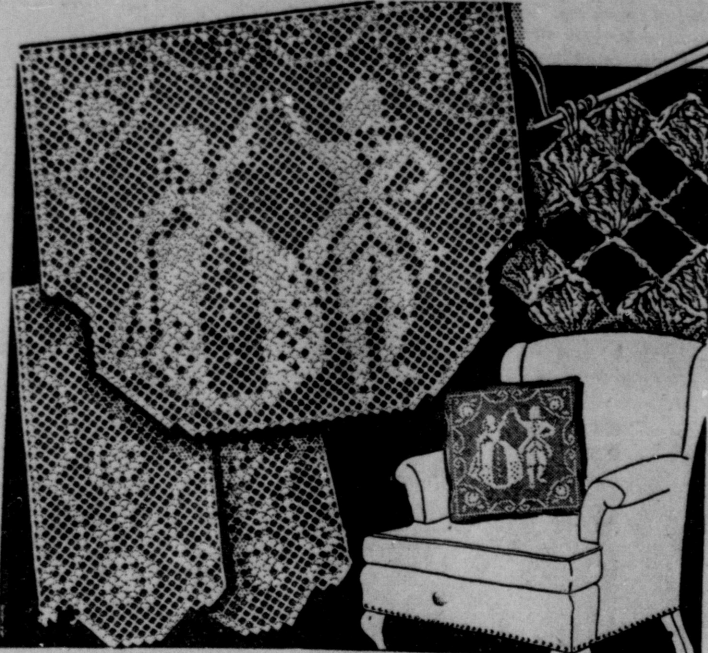

"Welcome Home" to Mrs. Roy V. Ivins was expressed yesterday afternoon by means of a party which Mrs. E. A. B. Smith and Mrs. Molly Ballard gave at the Doris Kathryn. Mrs. Ivins, 114 East Cubbon street, has just returned from a several weeks' visit in Santa Paula.

Marigolds and blue bachelor buttons established the color scheme for place cards and other luncheon table appointments. Bouquets of zinnias provided a background of color.

Mrs. Ivins' gift from her hostesses was a jeweled clip in silver and blue. Gifts of stationery were prizes rewarding Mrs. A. E. Wallace, Mrs. James L. Allen and Mrs. C. Arnold for the three highest scores.

The present system of punctuation was developed by Aldus Manutius, an Italian printer and scholar of the 15th century.

Shell Stitch Is a New Note in Laura Wheeler Filet Crochet

FILET CROCHET

PATTERN 1819

Thrills await the needlewoman who tries her skill on this filet crochet. She can make a chair or buffet set—scarf ends of the larger piece—and a pillow top to match! Shell stitch (easy to do) gives the quaint figures depth—and open mesh sets them off effectively. Pattern 1819 contains charts and directions for making the set; materials required; illustrations of stitches.

Send 10 cents in stamps or coin for this pattern to Register Needlecraft Department, Third and Sycamore streets. Write plainly PATTERN NUMBER, your NAME and ADDRESS.

$16,600 IN RUM FINES LEVIED

Activities of the state board of equalization for the first half of the year in enforcing the alcoholic beverage control act, resulted in the arrest of 453 persons who paid fines totaling $16,600, while an additional $3238 in fines was suspended.

The report today shows 25 persons were jailed as well as fined, 30 were given alternative jail terms or fines and 56 received mandatory jail sentences. Thirty types of violations were reported, sales to minors leading with 65 arrests.

Confiscate Liquors
Among other penalties the board suspended 158 licenses for varying periods and revoked 35 others. Officers confiscated a total of 80,963 gallons of illicit liquor of all types. "The generally fine cooperation of local peace officers in enforcing the alcoholic beverage control act is highly appreciated by the board," said William G. Bonelli, member from this district.

AGRICULTURAL COUNCIL HEAD ATTACKS $30 WEEK PENSION

BY RALPH H. TAYLOR

(Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California)
"Thirty dollars every Thursday!"
It is an intriguing slogan—an inviting prospect, if you can bury your head in the economic sands and believe in it.

And apparently some 700,000 Californians did just that: for 700,000 Californians, according to official reports, signed petitions to submit the $30-a-week pension act to voters at the November general election.

Starting Record
Never in the history of the state have so many citizens signed petitions for an initiative act as signed-up for Thirty Dollars Every Thursday. It is an amazing and startling record—startling in that it means the act will have a good chance of approval at the polls unless voters look before they leap; startling, too, in that the measure, if it becomes law, will play havoc with the state's financial structure and will start a stampede to California which will double and treble the rush of refugees now crossing our borders.

But perhaps the worst aspect of the new pension craze is that hundreds of thousands of old people who have high hopes of retirement, with a life annuity of $30 per week, will be bitterly disappointed and disillusioned—after parting with hard-earned dollars to finance a movement which is foredoomed to failure.

Reputation Urged
In the interest of humanity, if not in the interest of state solvency, it is to be hoped that the fallacy of the plan is exposed long before election day and that the act is repudiated at the polls, instead of being invalidated in the courts, or collapsing of its own weight after an unsuccessful attempt to make it work. California farm organizations can perform no more worthwhile service this year than to assist their members of the soundness and utter impossibility of the will-o'-the-wisp program which this initiative contemplates.

Let's take a look at this act with the magic title.
If it became effective, all California citizens, 50 years of age or over and "not employed for compensation," would be eligible to receive 30 state-issued, one dollar warrants, or certificates, every Thursday.

$15,000,000 Each Week
Estimates of the number of people in California who would be eligible vary from 700,000 to 900,000, but promoters of the plan estimate that 500,000 persons would accept the pension immediately. At $30 per week, they would be paid $15,000,000 a week. At the end of the first year, there would be $750,000,000 in state certificates in circulation!

Theoretically, at least, the warrants, or certificates, would be retired each year by a two-cent per week tax on each dollar certificate. But who would pay that tax? With $750,000,000 worth of the state warrants in circulation, it may be assumed that California merchants would have about $500,000,000 worth in their tills every Thursday—providing, of course, that merchants accepted them in exchange for merchandise, as the plan contemplates. At two-cents per certificate, that would mean a weekly tax bill of $10,000,000 for California merchants on top of all other taxes.

Problems Cited
But there is every likelihood—in fact, it is a virtual certainty—that banks would refuse to accept the certificates as "money," for the federal government reserves the exclusive right to issue money and banks are squeamish about their security. But consider some of the other practical problems: With "state money" not recognized in any other state, how could California merchants buy from out-of-state wholesalers or manufacturers? And if they couldn't turn the "money" into the bank, or use it to replenish their stocks, just what would they do with it? Certainly, farmers wouldn't accept "certificates" in lieu of cash for their commodities—for farmers have to be careful about money; they're not overly endowed with it.

There is grave probability, of course, that the Thirty Dollars Every Thursday plan would be declared unconstitutional in the state if, by any chance, it should secure approval of the voters. But California can ill afford to gain the reputation of enacting crack-pot legislation which requires intervention of the federal government to save it from financial ruin. Nor can it afford to invite a new stampede of destitute from other states. California taxpayers should render a smashing "No" verdict on this proposal—and farmers should lead the procession!

BRAN MUFFINS ARE "ALWAYS POPULAR"

By the middle of summer the novelty of cold meals has worn off. Sandwiches and salads, iced drinks and chilled desserts have lost their charm, and there is a tendency, especially on the part of the men folks, to demand "regular" meals.

One way for the homemaker to out-distance the heat is to prepare as much food as possible in the early part of the day. Vegetables can be cleaned and placed in the refrigerator, casserole dishes can be ready all except a last minute of heating, and dessert can consist of fruit, crackers and cheese or some other effortless combination.

Hot muffins will often make a very plain meal a success. There is a serving oven available now which is a joy in either hot or cold weather. Muffins may be baked in the morning. Five minutes before dinner, put them into the serving oven, placed on a top burner of the stove, and heat thoroughly. The oven is so good looking that it is brought to the table and the muffins kept hot to the last one. Bran muffins are always popular, so it is well to include them in the menu once or twice a week. There are several ways to vary the recipe. Plain bran muffins are best with a meat and potato meal; fruit or nuts can be added if the muffins are to be served with salad or for tea; apple bran muffins are delicious for breakfast. The bran meal flavor and helps to make a meal "regular" by contributing some fiber, some iron and some Vitamin B.

Our Children

THE PRIVATE SCHOOL

The public schools are the schools for everybody's children and they ought to be the best schools for all children. But they are not. Children come one by one, and in individual families, each in a different place, under different circumstances. Education to be of use, must be adjusted as nearly as possible to the needs of the individual child. This is not possible in the public schools as financed and managed today. For individual instruction, for education suited to the needs of the individual child, one must go to the private school. And not just any private school. Each school has its own aims and standards. One serves girls who will not work in the competitive walks of life; another does the same for such boys; one prepares for a certain college; another for its chosen schools; one takes care of gifted children and another serves backward children; one leads to art school, another to business. Each group of special needs is served by some school that specializes in that field. So it is that the public schools are relieved of pressing responsibility for certain sorts of children, and society is better served.

What sort of school is the child to be sent to? The school that is looking for him. Some school is equipped for giving him what he needs most and one finds that the school. How does one know it is the right school? One never knows. Children are never alike so the best we can do is to try out the school that seems to offer him most and he quick to see its success or failure as reflected in his happiness.

The price that is asked is not the standard of excellence. There are some schools, very few, who want only the children of moneyed people. If moneyed people want to send their children there, they have that right and privilege, but the great majority of parents, who are looking for a working school, one that is set to develop the best gifts his child possesses, does not use them. Sending a child to a school to have him form associations that are to help him climb socially, or commercially, is about the most futile, the most belittling thing, one can do for a child. What a child needs is the education that develops what he has in him. The school cannot give him what he has not in his self the day he enters. What it can do magnificently, if it gets the chance, is to strengthen what he has that is good and send him out with strength and intelligence and purpose fully developed for service.

Study the child you have with care. Don't take your own opinion of him as final because it is likely to be colored by your hopes and fears and ambitions. Get the expert's advice on him before selecting his school. And let the child be the guide. Not his willful, mistaken and weakly gestures but his ordinary behavior in ordinary matters. Let the real child, the child unaffected by his own desire to be what you wish him to be, the child as he is when he feels free to be himself, show you where he needs to go.

For the unusual child, the genius, the gifted, the backward, the failing one, private school offers the most. For the ordinary, healthy, carefree child the public school and the parochial school stand ready. There are none better in the world than ours here in America.

As MacMullen Group Left for Annual Picnic

SCORES OF CHEVROLET DEALER "FAMILY" ENJOY ANNUAL FETE

The photograph above shows the organization of B. J. MacMullen, the local Santa Ana Chevrolet dealer, leaving for its 13th annual picnic.

The above picture was taken at 7:30 a. m., was developed and presented to Mr. MacMullen by his organization at 11 a. m. the same day at the beautiful Doheny Park Beach club which was christened for the occasion. There is quite a contrast between this group and the first organization party held by B. J. MacMullen 13 years ago which was comprised of seven people.

Play For a Day

MacMullen says he has tried his best to progress and grow with Santa Ana and Chevrolet.

The occasion was more enjoyable due to the fact that the organization could play for a day and look back to their 1925 accomplishments and especially their July results as a job well done. For instance, they did the magnificent job of delivering 33 new Chevrolet automobiles and 52 used cars in the month of July, which represented an 80.6 per cent increase over last year's business. It was announced at this picnic that the B. J. MacMullen employees had received in wages, commissions, salaries, etc., an amount in excess of $2000 more than they received during the same period last year. It was further announced that the personnel had not been reduced, salaries had not been cut, and in fact some advancements had been made.

Various athletic events were held, starting with a baseball game between the sales and service departments fighting for a very coveted loving cup which has passed back and forth from one group to the other over a period of years. One thousand feet of private beach was available. A life guard was provided who kept a watchful eye over the bathing kiddies. They danced to music furnished by the B. J. MacMullen sound truck and public address system in the beautiful ballroom. Fishing contests, stunts of war, dance contests and other interesting events were held. At 12 and again at 5:30, fried chicken and all the good things that go along with a picnic dinner were served. 175 pounds of fried chicken was consumed. 125 persons were in attendance.

Success Is Cited

Everyone returned tired but as happy as when they left for the day. They came back to a very busy place where business is good and getting better and they are all looking forward to their next annual picnic and hoping and believing that they will have another prosperous year behind them.

MacMullen is insistent that his measure of success in Santa Ana, his achievement in 1938, and the things that have made it possible to have functions of this kind, must be contributed to two sources. First: his many loyal patrons, and second, and of great importance, a good, loyal, hard working, hard hitting organization.

CRICKETS DEVOUR RATTLES

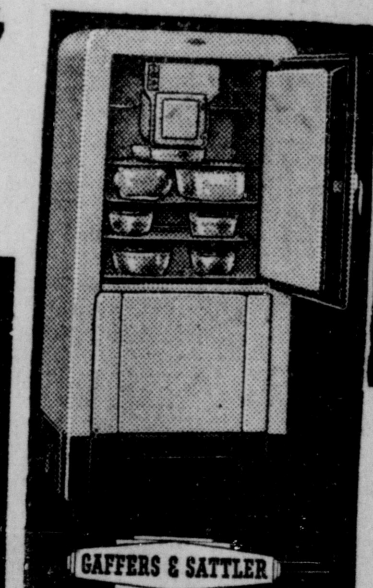

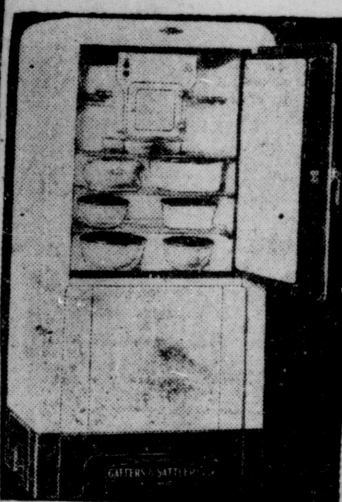

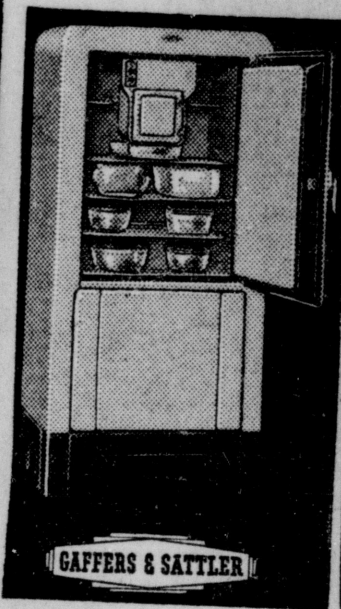

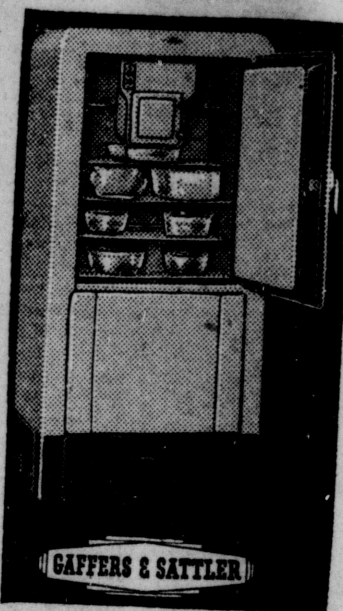

CARSON CITY, Nev., (UP)—According to Morley Murphy, Elko county rancher, the crickets which are eating up entire crops are conferring at least one blessing on the country as they pass along. He saw them eat at least three rattlesnakes which happened to be in their path.

DRIVE CAREFULLY
—SAVE A LIFE—

WHAT'S VALUABLE

A Chicago man who has just made a tour of the Southwest is back home now, waiting for blindness to come upon him. Seeing the Southwest was his life's ambition, and now that he has realized it he is ready, he says, for the fate which specialists have told him will overtake him within a year's time.

He knew what he wanted to do more than anything else, and when suddenly it became clear to him how little time was remaining in which to do it, he found a way to get it done.

He was different from many men in more than his accomplishment of the thing he was after. He knew what he wanted.

If you were ever told that your sight would be gone in a year's time, and you believed it, what task would you set your eyes to? Is it your chief ambition to see certain places in the earth? Are there books you always have looked forward to reading? Works of art you always hoped some day to see?

Imagining that your sight is only a temporary possession is a good way to discover exactly what it is your mortal mind holds valuable. And the terror of it probably would be sufficient to shock you into the determination to go after those experiences, instead of spending the rest of your mortal days merely looking forward to them.

WHAT MAKES NEWS

Sometimes it takes a peculiar sort of phenomenon to make a man recognize exactly how many vital issues confront the world these days. Continual doses of alarming news over a long period sometimes lead to the suspicion that things actually have always been like this, and always will be.

Take your mind back, then, to 1926. On August 6 of that year a girl named Gertrude Ederle swam the English Channel. You don't have to be told what kind of a sensation that produced, here and abroad. That was one of the big things that happened in 1926.

Did you hear of Jenny Kammergaard? She swam across the Baltic Sea from Denmark to Germany, entering the water the night of July 27 and arriving the morning of July 29. She swam several miles farther than Gertrude Ederle, and she was in the water almost three times as long.

You may have missed that one. That wasn't one of the big things that happened in 1938. It was just one of the things that happened.

But a few days later a broker in Chicago played 144 holes of golf between sunrise and sunset on a bet that involved a $30,000 plantation and cash amounting to about $2500. It was front page news, but for real courage and stamina it didn't compare with Miss Kammergaard's feat.

What does make news?

STAY AWAKE

Do you tire of the continual talk these days of the various "challenges to democracy," the "threats from within and without"? Don't let yourself.

Are the frequent admonitions to concern yourself personally with public affairs and keep your interest in government constantly alive beginning to leave you cold? Don't let them.

The democracy you enjoy will not survive without your personal concern. Your boredom or indifference is one of the gravest of those "threats from within." A dictatorship is a lazy man's government. A democracy must decidedly be not.

One of the most imaginable reasons for the maintenance of your interest in your government becomes clear with a little reflection on an observation made by an educator during a recent teachers' conference in New York. The constant danger in a democracy whose citizens are not alert, he said, is that the people will not know in whose hands the power lies and what is being done with that power.

If you lived under a dictatorship it would be crystal-clear where the power lay. Your obligation as a citizen of a democracy is to keep informed.

And once you are informed you will be particular what kind of men you send to Congress and the Legislature. Never before in the history of the nation are honest, sincere clear thinking men more needed for our law making bodies than now. And it is up to you and us to see that the right kind of men are elected.

The Nation's Press

WHAT REALLY IS HAPPENING

(Azusa, Cal., Herald)

The question is often raised, "why is it that the papers will carry two stories side by side—one from China and the other from Japan—each giving a different version of the same battle?"

The answer is rather simple, but hard for those living in America, one of the last strongholds of true freedom of the press, to understand.

You don't "get" news in China or Japan; you "take" it. You don't go out to get a story yourself, you simply take the story that is handed to you by a government bureau. So that you can't find out what is actually happening, but only what the government wants you to know.

Therefore when both the Chinese and Japanese claim a victory on the same day, it's because their spokesmen assert it; when the Spanish loyalists and rebels both announce the capture of the same city, it's because their headquarters proclaim it; when the news dispatches from Tokyo and Moscow contradict each other, it's because the two representative governments fail to agree.

And even if a reporter should be ambitious and aggressive enough to get a true story by independent means, he would not be allowed to send it over the government-censored telephones or cables. So that the best news service—such as Associated Press or United Press—can do is to send both stories and let the reader take his pick or strike a happy medium.

A COUNTER-ATTACK

From the Detroit Free Press

By filing a million-dollar suit in the United States District Court in Washington charging the C. I. O. with libel, the National Association of Industrial Insurance Agents stages something definitely interesting in the way of counter-attack.

The specific charge of the association is that the C. I. O. traduced it by calling it a "company union," fostered and promoted by insurance companies.

Since company unions are outlawed by the Wagner Act and are under the ban of the N. L. R. B. there seems to be no doubt that such an accusation is actionable.

Whether the C. I. O. being an unincorporated body,

STOP BUYING MEXICAN SILVER

Now that Cardenas has ruled that they will pay for the property they have appropriated from the United States citizens as they are able to pay, it certainly behooves the United States government to show Mexico no favors. We, of course, do not want to get in war on this account but there is one thing that the United States can and should do and that is stop buying silver at an arbitrary price. When the United States buys all the silver that England, or any other country has for sale at an arbitrary price, Mexico has a market for its silver at more than it is worth.

Since the silver act of 1934 the United States has purchased 1,353,000,000 ounces of silver. Of this amount, only 333,000,000 were from the United States. The price paid runs from $1 to 43 cents. In 1932 silver on the open market was worth 27.8 cents. We certainly have been a good neighbor to the rest of the world to buy up all this silver, that the rest of the world does not want, especially at this artificial price.

This simply means that the working people of the United States are having the comforts of life taken from them and transferred to the Mexican citizens. With millions of people in our own midst so badly needing a higher standard of living, this is certainly anything but common sense. It is anything but a progressive government to take the fruits of the workers in the United States and give it to the workers in Mexico. It is reaction of the worst kind.

COMPETITION AND PROGRESS

Many of those theorists who do not practice what they preach and are constantly advocating more and more government control, contend that we do not want competition; that competition is our trouble.

They fail to realize that it is not competition that is our trouble but that we have never yet had an absolutely free competitive system; that it is the lack of this free competitive system that has caused our trouble.

When one analyzes the causes of our natural progress, it is, in every case of which the writer can think, a result of the competitive system—of some one determined to produce a better article that will require less human energy to produce the comforts of life.

If any reader knows of any material progress benefiting mankind that was not a result of competition, the writer would be delighted to hear about it.

And if no one can cite a single illustration of material benefit to mankind that was not a result of competition, then certainly they should concede that we want to do everything we can to extend the competitive system rather than contract it. Our trouble is, we have been eliminating competition instead of increasing it.

JULY'S DEFICIT—451 MILLION

The Federal deficit for July, 1938, was $451,000,000. This is at the rate of $5,412,000,000 a year and this deficit includes money paid into social security and unemployment.

So, the real deficit is at a higher rate than actually reported.

is responsible under the law may be a question, but individuals always are responsible for what they say; and the insurance men have made an effort to overcome the element of uncertainty by naming Mr. Lewis and other C. I. O. officers as individuals in addition to naming the organization itself.

If some suit such as the one just started can be made to stick and substantial damages are collected, perhaps the country may hope thereafter for at least a partial moratorium on the reckless accusations and name callings which at present are so sickeningly prevalent.

Fellow Citizens: A contributor to one of our local papers has proudly informed us recently that the exports of this country for the year 1937 amounted to $3,250,000,000 while in 1932 our exports were only $1,500,000,000. I'm sure this was intended to impress us, that the New Deal had performed a miracle but somehow I fail to be impressed.

Considering the amount stated as being accurate, which I hope it is, is that an accomplishment in which to take pride? Knowing, as everyone does, that the cataclysm which hit this country was world wide, and that foreign countries could not continue to buy from us as they normally had, is it any wonder that our exports fell off? Why are they greater now? Is it something for which the New Deal should be given credit? Let's look at the record.

The depression hit bottom in the summer of 1932 and at least four months before the election of Franklin Roosevelt we began climbing upward on the road to better times. Any analysis of statistical data proves this; bank deposits were increasing; money was returning to the banks from hoarding; farm, commodity and security prices were increasing; industrial plants were reopening and expanding and 500,000 men and women monthly were being reemployed. Loadings were increasing rapidly and in October were 220,000 cars a week more than in June. Foreign exports were increasing and in October were $46,000,000 more than in July. Then Franklin Roosevelt was elected. Our country hesitated and then took a nose dive into one of the worst panics we have ever experienced. Our exports dropped lower than ever before and nearly a year elapsed before they regained the October 1932 figures.

Now after five years of New Deal policies, devaluing our money to make it easier for foreign nations to buy from us and AAA assistance to our farmers, etc., we hear it proudly stated that our exports now amount to the enormous sum of $3,250,000,000—50c dollars. Why aren't they more? Our average for 12 years prior to the New Deal, including the depression years '30, '31 and '32, was over four billion—40 per cent dollars. Surely something must be holding us back.

What has been the nature of what increase we have had? Exports of passenger cars increased from 41,000 in 1932 to 180,000 in 1936. Motor trucks, from 25,000 in '32 to 106,000 in '36. But if our government made any effort to assist the automobile manufacturers I never heard of it. Exports of machinery increased from $131,000,000 in 1932 to $334,000,000 in 1936. Iron and steel products increased from $28,000,000 in 1932 to $111,000,000 in 1936. How much assistance did these items receive?

Let's look at some of the things this administration has really given its attention to. In 1936 we exported 1,329,000,000 less pounds of cotton, 53,000,000 fewer bushels of wheat, 556,000,000 less pounds of packing house products, 56,000,000 less pounds of meat products and 435,000,000 less pounds of lard than we did in 1932. To list all the items which showed a decrease would be tiresome. Had our exports increased during this last five years to around $5,000,000,000 a year where they were back in the twenties when we more nearly approached the competitive system in the country; if the 12,000,000 men and women who are now unemployed could find self supporting employment at good wages; if our artificial economic condition did not have to be propped up with borrowed money to keep it from collapsing, the New Dealers might have something to crow about.

As it is, inasmuch as improvement started before Roosevelt was elected, which was world wide and as this improvement was greater in other countries than here, thinking people can arrive at only one conclusion and that is that the New Deal has been more detrimental to our prosperity than beneficial. One of the "17,000,000."

BETHANY BEACH, Del.—This is a "guest columnist" debating stunt. In his field my commentator was the greatest who ever lived. He is dead now. He wrote this in 1919. His name is at the bottom. Contrary to all human experience, we are being told that colossal debt, taxes and spending are blessings and that Government can do for people what the old copybook maxims said they must do for themselves. My guest doubted this. He pretends here that he was reincarnated in all geologic ages and always found men breaking those copybook axioms—and suffering for it. By "Gods of the Market Place" he means white rabbit artists—like some "Third New Dealers."

"As I pass through my incarnations in every age and race, I make my proper protestations to the Gods of the Market Place. Peering through reverent fingers I watch them flourish and fall, and the Gods of the Copybook Headings, I notice, outlast them all."

"We moved as the Spirit listed. They never altered their pace. Being neither cloud nor wind-borne like the Gods of the Market Place, But they always kept up with our progress, and presently would come. That a tribe had been wiped off its icefield, or the lights had gone out in Rome."

"With the Hopes that our World is built on they were utterly out of touch. They denied that the Moon was Stilton; they denied she was even Dutch. They denied that Wishes were Horses; they denied that a Pig had Wings."

"So we worshipped the Gods of the Market who promised these beautiful things. They swore, if we gave them our weapons, that the wars of the tribes would cease. CONSUMER PURCHASING POWER

By ERNEST MINOR PATTERSON
President, American Academy of Political and Social Science

In discussing public questions it is always well to see if there are any matters upon which agreement is possible. An illustration is the current argument over purchasing power. The federal administration has urged that a lack of purchasing power in the hands of consumers is one defect in the main defect of our present economic system. Its methods of attempting to correct the maladjustment have provoked sharp criticism.

Perhaps we can agree on the indictment. There are two arguments. One is definitely humanitarian and emotional, but none the less important. To most of us the low incomes of many of our population are abhorrent. We feel that there is something terribly wrong when a country with the vast productive capacity of the United States contains such large numbers of persons whose earnings are so low. A weekly wage of eleven dollars stirs us deeply and we are anxious to do something about it.

Another reason is that the smooth operation of business is dependent upon the possession of large purchasing power in the hands of consumers. Farms and factories turn out huge quantities of food, clothing, gadgets, etc. These farms and factories can continue to function smoothly only if these products can be taken steadily and regularly off the market. Otherwise gluts will occur from time to time. Moreover, the capital goods industries also suffer if and when consumption goods are not purchased. Profits in the consumption goods industries will determine whether new machinery will be ordered and new plants erected.

The need for an adequate distribution of purchasing power is clear even though we may disagree over which is adequate and over the methods of distribution. This writer firmly believes that the distribution in the past has been inadequate and at times seriously so. He also believes and has argued to the effectiveness of this apathy have erred in attempting to correct the maladjustment have provoked sharp criticism.

Here again the disputants can get together. There cannot be a large real income for the public unless there is a large volume of production. But this large output cannot be purchased unless the public can pay for it. To pay for it they must have adequate purchasing power. This purchasing power can be effectively increased through higher wages but increased wages can come only from present or prospective increased earnings. In many lines the answer it to be found in a larger volume of sales and this volume is to be secured through lower prices. An outsider unfamiliar with the perplexing problems of costs and sales promotion must be duly modest. Nevertheless any close observer may record his doubts and raise questions.

For example, he may wonder if some of our electric light and power companies have fully appreciated the "elasticity" of the demand for electric current. There are plenty of illustrations of an inelastic demand in sales and in earnings that have followed the reduction in rates. He may wonder also if the recently granted permission to raise railway coach fares from two cents to two and one-half cents per mile will increase or diminish railway income.

No matter what the answer may be in a given case the solution depends upon maintaining a large output made available at low prices. This in turn depends upon ability to keep costs down and volume of sales up and this in turn is affected in any given industry by the elasticity of demand for its product.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—The country may have known James Morghenthau in Europe. As he Pope only as a minor senator from Idaho, but he was an indispensable inside legislative agent for the administration. Outwardly his defeat may involve only a small recovery of lost prestige, but inwardly it was the saddest blow of the primaries so far.

The rejected Idaho Democrat was the foremost hard carrier in the senate for the agriculture department and occasionally also for the White House. They depended upon him to handle any load of legislative bricks and mortar they could prepare, concoctions such as most of the other senators might not care or dare to handle. He was from a small state representing limited interests so he could afford to be even under the secondary leadership for the reorganization bill and the supreme court bill, which senators generally did not want their names tied to, even though they were voting for the bills. He was the unofficial Wallace leader on the senate agriculture committee to combat Committee Chairman Cotton Ed. Smith on farm legislation, and did an excellent job of it.

With Black now on the supreme court and Minton's shoulders bent under the anti-press burden they last handed him, the administration has few always-sure hard carriers left in the senate. There is no one in sight to take Pope's place. Note—The blow was complete surprise on the inside. Administration agents had reported from Idaho that Pope was sure to win. Only explanation which the astonished new dealers could offer off-hand was that some local situations must have ruined him.

There will be another tax bill next year. No one can tell yet how far it will go. The way Acting Treasury Secretary Magill has been stating frequently seems to indicate the treasury is trying to promote some more tax novelties, but it may not work out that way.

Magill is merely holding Morghenthau's press conference while Morghenthau is in Europe. As he knows more about taxes than any other man here, his conferences usually develop some fancy conversational ideas on that subject. He is not putting out formal announcements, however.

Furthermore, the congressional authorities who forced alternations in undistributed profits and capital gains taxes last session over Minton's head, are determined to kill the new bill to routine renewal of expiring excise taxes. They may have to beat off some new treasury ideas and the usual LaFollette income tax plans again, but there is no reason now to believe they will be unable to do it.

Bitterness which developed in the Ohio Democratic primary has caused the leaders here to doubt the November outcome there. They are reaching for the healing lotion but are not sure the defeated crowd will be amenable to salve. One national leader, commenting candidly on the primary result off the record, described the situation as "very delicate." He said it "requires concentration."

When Greek meets Greek, when AFL meets CIO, when a senate civil liberties investigation meets a house communist-fascist investigation, the same thing happens. One or the other generally withdraws for a day. It seems the LaFollette civil liberties committee which is promoting the CIO organization drive had heard that John Frey of AFL was going to appear before the Dies committee and tell about communism in CIO. At any rate after Frey's appearance had been announced for Friday, the LaFollette committee announced that Tom Girdler, Republican Steel corporation, would be tried for public edification on Thursday and Friday.

While Girdler has been tried on both sides by congressional investigating committees before, the delectable publicity generally crowds everything else except far eastern wars into an inside page.

There are only four things certain since social progress began—that the Dog returns to his Vomit and the Sow returns to her Mire, and the burnt Fool's bandaged finger goes wabbling back to the fire; and that after this is accomplished, and the brave new world begins, when all men are paid for existing, and no man must pay for his sins, as surely as Water will wet us, as surely as Fire will burn, the Gods of the Copybook Headings with terror and slaughter return!

Of course, the "guest columnist" was Mr. Kipling.
